The 1962 QUILL

From Smoke Signals

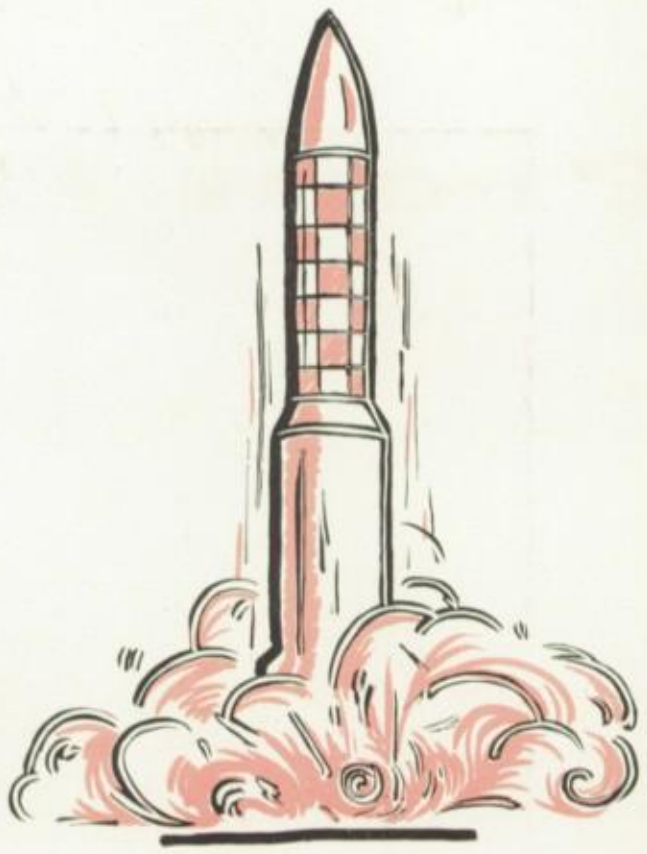
TOMORROW'S LEADERS stride high school's path where others have walked and future generations will pass.

to SPACE

Golden grass waved majestically under the blue heavens while an Indian boy raced his wild pony over the prairie. He stopped and a dust cloud of hunting warriors paused too, while the youth's progressive ideas challenged experienced minds.

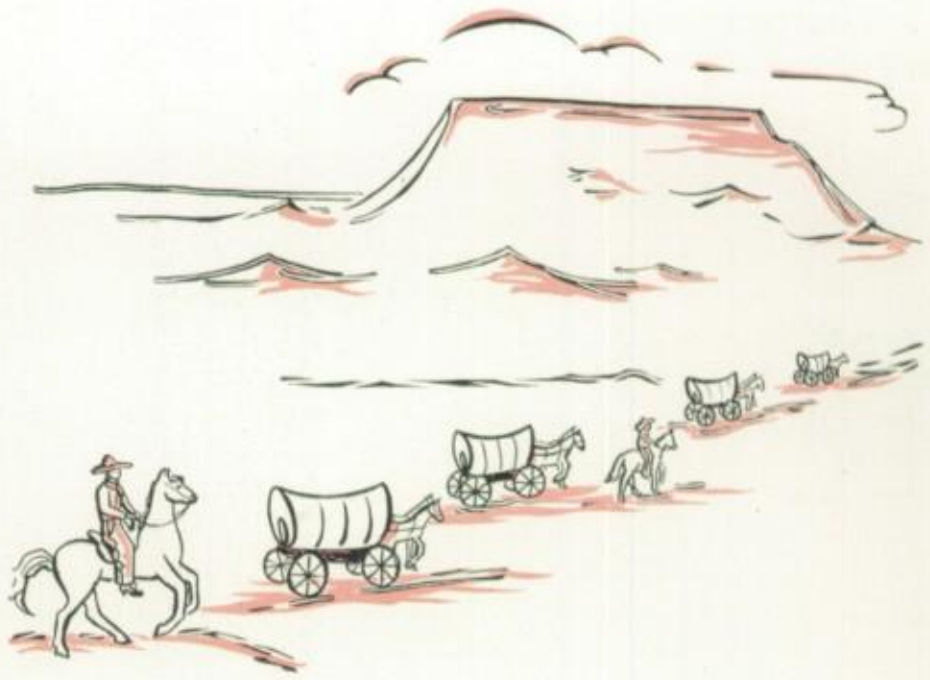
Over this very earth would soon come a white man to turn it in the beauty of cultivation. The Indian boy and white man's son would join each other's people. They would both bring new hope, new freedom, new ways to the growing frontier.

A run would be made, tent cities would spring up, homesteads would replace teepees and missiles would conquer outer space as white men and red men pioneered the future together.



QUANAH PARKER, wise Chief of the Comanches, pauses to listen to the words of his small son before continuing with his Braves in the search for chaa-unjay (buffalo) in Old Oklahoma Territory in area surrounding Enid community.

MARQUIS JAMES, two-time Pulitzer Prize winner and originator of Enid High's QUILL, pauses to recollect early day Enid as he finishes THE CHEROKEE STRIP at the home of Lee Cromwell, boyhood friend.



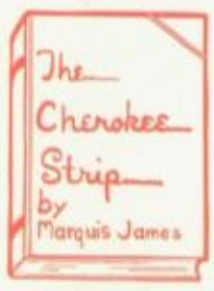
Marquis James

ENID'S COURT HOUSE is the local meeting place as pioneers gather each Saturday after selling produce and buying next week's supplies.

BILL, E.H.S. sophomore, and Mark Cromwell study the original manuscript of THE CHEROKEE STRIP. Mark was named for the famed friend of the J. Lee Cromwell family.

TEN THOUSAND eagerly await the signal which will open the red man's land (Okla-Homa) for settlement. Today these people and their grandchildren call this land home.

CROSSING THE PLAINS following the Chisholm Trail, the heart of this area, the drovers relentlessly push their herd toward Caldwell, Wichita, or Abilene, where they will try for top prices for their cattle.

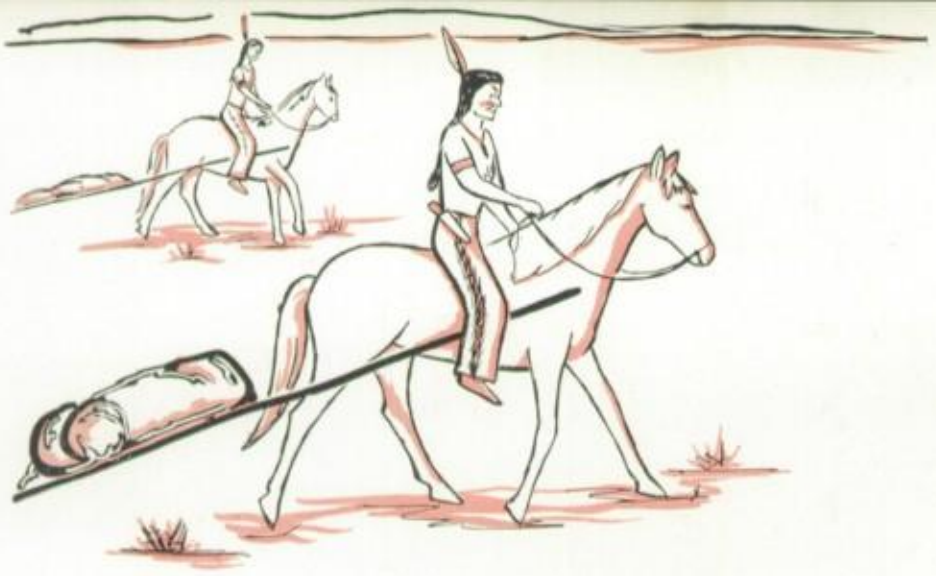


Enid pioneer families were thrilled when they read early day high school episodes, recaptured the past, and felt the thrill of being immortalized in print by the pen of their own Marquis James, writer of Enid High's famous yell, "Let 'er Rip, Let'er Roar, Let'er go once more! Enid High School o'er and o'er! Enid, Enid, Enid!" in his book The Cherokee Strip, A Tale of an Oklahoma Boyhood.

Mark returned to Enid, staying at the Lee Cromwell home, and doing much of his writing at the W. O. Cromwell home, 518 West Maple. Much of his research was done at Enid's Carnegie Library and in talking with Enid's older citizens.

Even more of his inspiration came from revisiting the community of his early boyhood and visiting again with friends with whom he relived the past early, exciting days at Enid High School.

FIELDS OF GOLDEN GRAIN in yesteryear as today support the families and communities of modern Northwestern Oklahoma.



TRANS

OKLAHOMA'S FIRST TRAIN brings thousands of land seekers into the territory. Men ride the train as far as possible, jump off and run on foot for their own treasured strip of earth.

From the Conestoga wagon to "Friendship 7" the pioneer spirit for advancement remained. Indians seeing "white clouds floating near earth" had not conceived of any method of hauling goods that was so complicated. Years passed and the necessity for increased speed and comfort arose.

Horse and buggies are used today only as symbols of times past. No one can actually know what the future will bring, but each can visualize, and all realize that transportation, like the world, is ever moving forward.

TODAY'S STUDENTS prefer cars as a means of transportation to the early day horse and buggies for school travel though many own horses on nearby farms and frequently ride for fun. All love rodeo horsemanship.

PORTATION

EDUCATION

ENID HIGH SCHOOL, old Lincoln Building, 600 North Independence, has been improved, modern equipment is now being used, but the knowledge gained passes from one generation to the other.

A bell rang and school began. In 1907, on the second floor of the Opera House, Enid's citizens set up the first supervised program for education; while the United States government presented Oklahoma with statehood.

1962, fifty-five years after the first schoolmarm conducted her initial class, seven thousand youngsters flocked daily to Enid's twenty-one schools. Classes have changed, names and locations are different; but goals for students' future remain the same.

SUPERABUNDANT ENERGY not always found in the classroom, is more readily released when student body gathers for pep assemblies, a sometimes hidden phase of education but possessing that indefinable something called "School Spirit."

STUDENTS AND TEACHER pursue boundless knowledge through personal relationship outside the classroom.

CLASSROOM PANEL DISCUSSIONS further the pursuit of education through textbooks and teacher's controlling guidance.

Heritage Continues

The Famed Fighting Forty-Fifth Division commended in World War II and in the Korean Occupation for gallantry in action, and one of two divisions to receive highest commendation of any unit in the service, is a suitable contribution for Oklahomans to make to their country. Grandparents, parents of Enid High students and present high school students have served creditably with this Division.

Pioneers in many areas, Oklahomans have had the fearlessness and industry to overcome drouth, flood, and the criticism of older, more conservative states, to challenge the future with the best that they have to offer in optimism, manpower, and the will to win.

FT. HOOD, TEXAS, is the training spot for the Oklahomans who guard their nation. Keeping in combat readiness, men spend two weeks at the summer encampment each August.

IN APPRECIATION

Brigadier General Otwa T. Autry

I hereby express to you the appreciation of the National Guard for all you have contributed to its achievements.

During your career you have witnessed the growth of the National Guard into the World's strongest, best trained, and most alert reserve component and you have aided materially in this growth. Your loyalty and devotion to duty throughout have reflected the highest credit upon you and the military service.

I know you will continue to maintain the same lively interest and support of the National Guard as you have during your years of faithful service.

The best wishes of the National Guard follow you in your future undertakings. May you find in your new assignment the happiness and good fortune you so richly deserve.

BRIG. GEN. O. T. AUTRY

Brig. Gen. O. T. Autry ended 35½ years military service January 1, when he retired as commander of the 189th Field Artillery Battalion, 45th Infantry Division, of the National Guard.

Entering as a private, he rose to rank of Brig. General. General Autry has the distinction of holding the Silver Star, Bronze Star, with Oak Leaf Cluster and ten Battle Stars, eight in European campaigns and two in Korea for courageous service to his country.

Mrs. Lois C. Vance

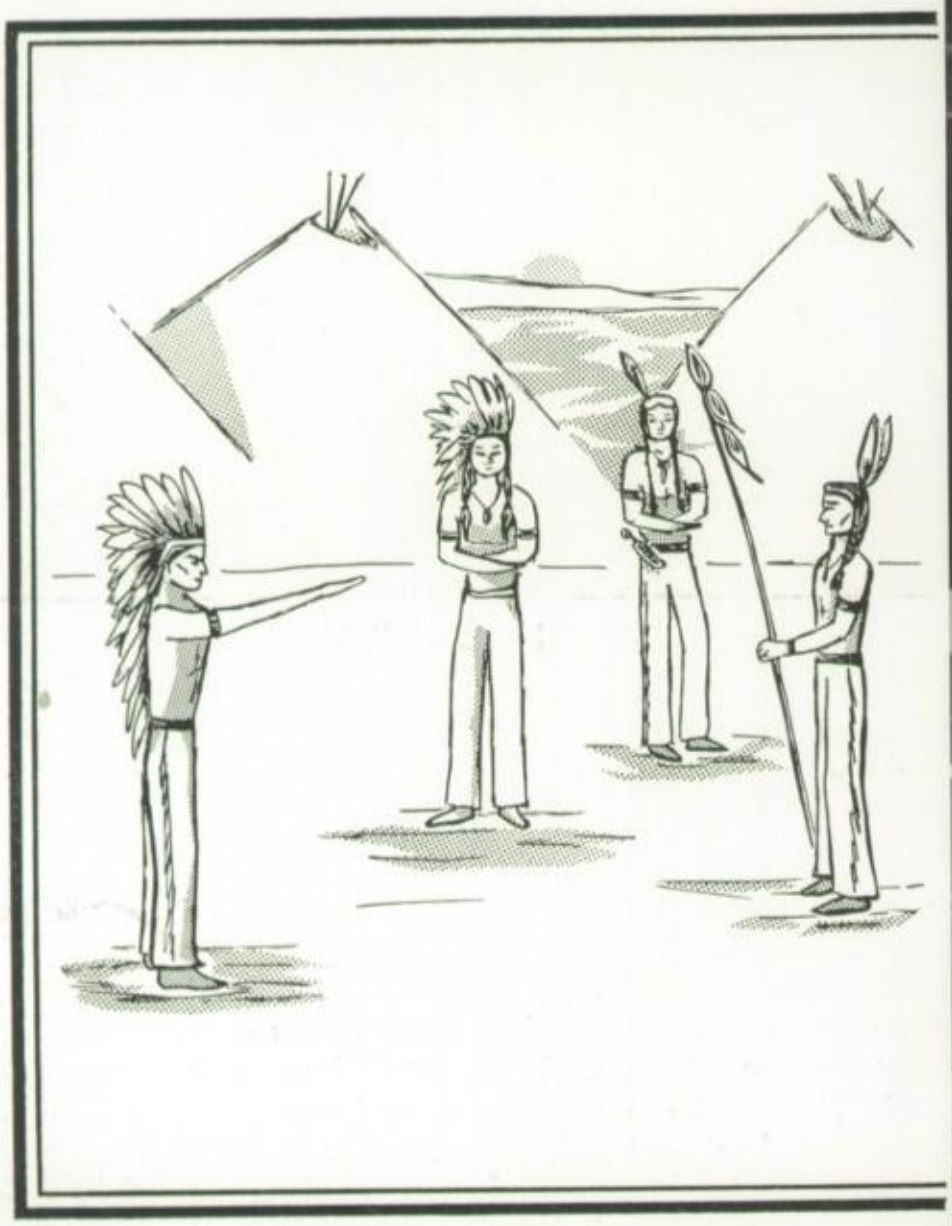
Dedication

For her contribution to gracious living and devotion to Enid High School for the past 33 years, we, the 1962 Quill Annual staff, wish respectfully to dedicate this book to Mrs. Lois C. Vance, head of the home economics department. Those who have studied the culinary arts under her appreciate the many fine areas of animated, brilliant guidance she has given.

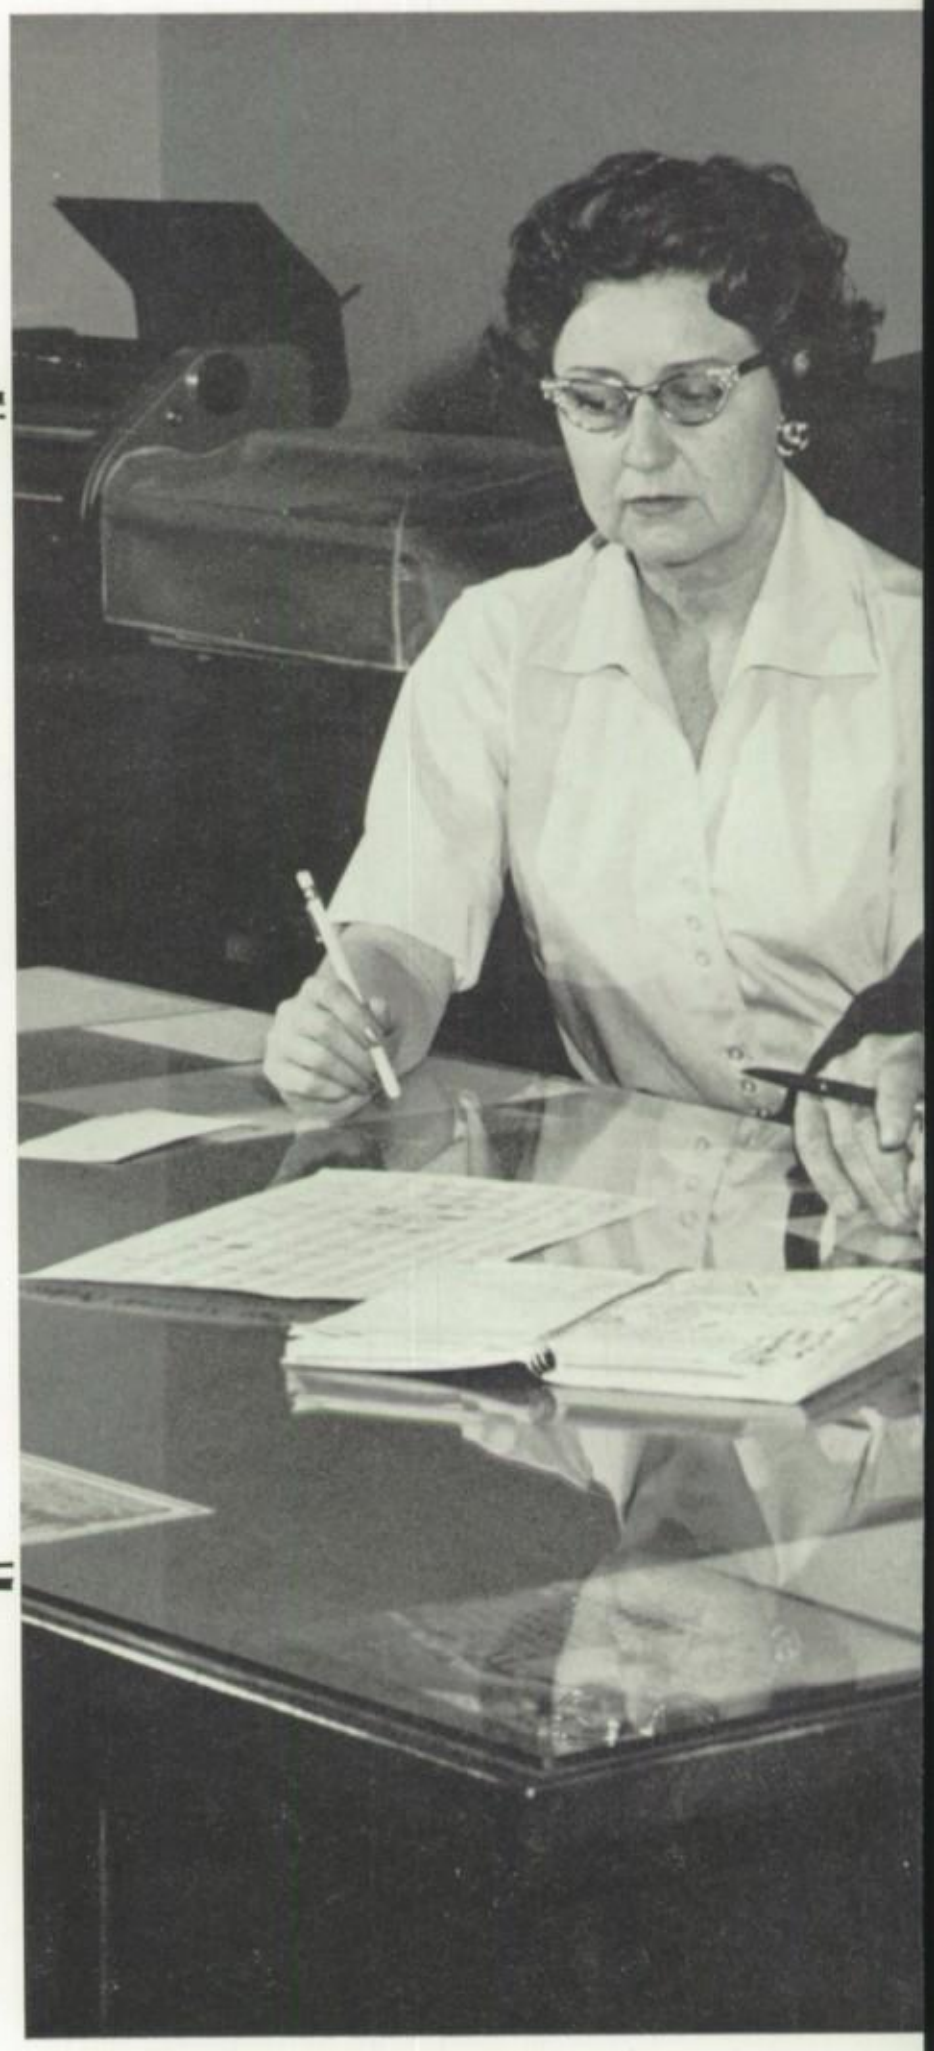
Her colorful past parallels our heritage. Her father, Burns Castle, dealt in Indian affairs and was so widely known for his interest in community and state affairs that the town of Castle, Oklahoma, was named for him. Her husband, Enid High School Coach Bill Vance, pioneered in the field of aviation. All three of her children, Jane, Helen, and Patty, fly, and Patty was the first woman in Enid to get her pilot's license. Vance Air Force Base was named for her nephew, Col. Bob Vance. Truly she has given the best to Oklahoma; even as she represents the best that Oklahoma has had to offer in intelligence, refinement, and service to others.

O. T. Autry, principal, expressed the feelings of faculty and students when he stated that "Mrs. Vance is a wonderful person, very dependable, loyal, well-liked by teachers and students, and irreplaceable as a teacher."

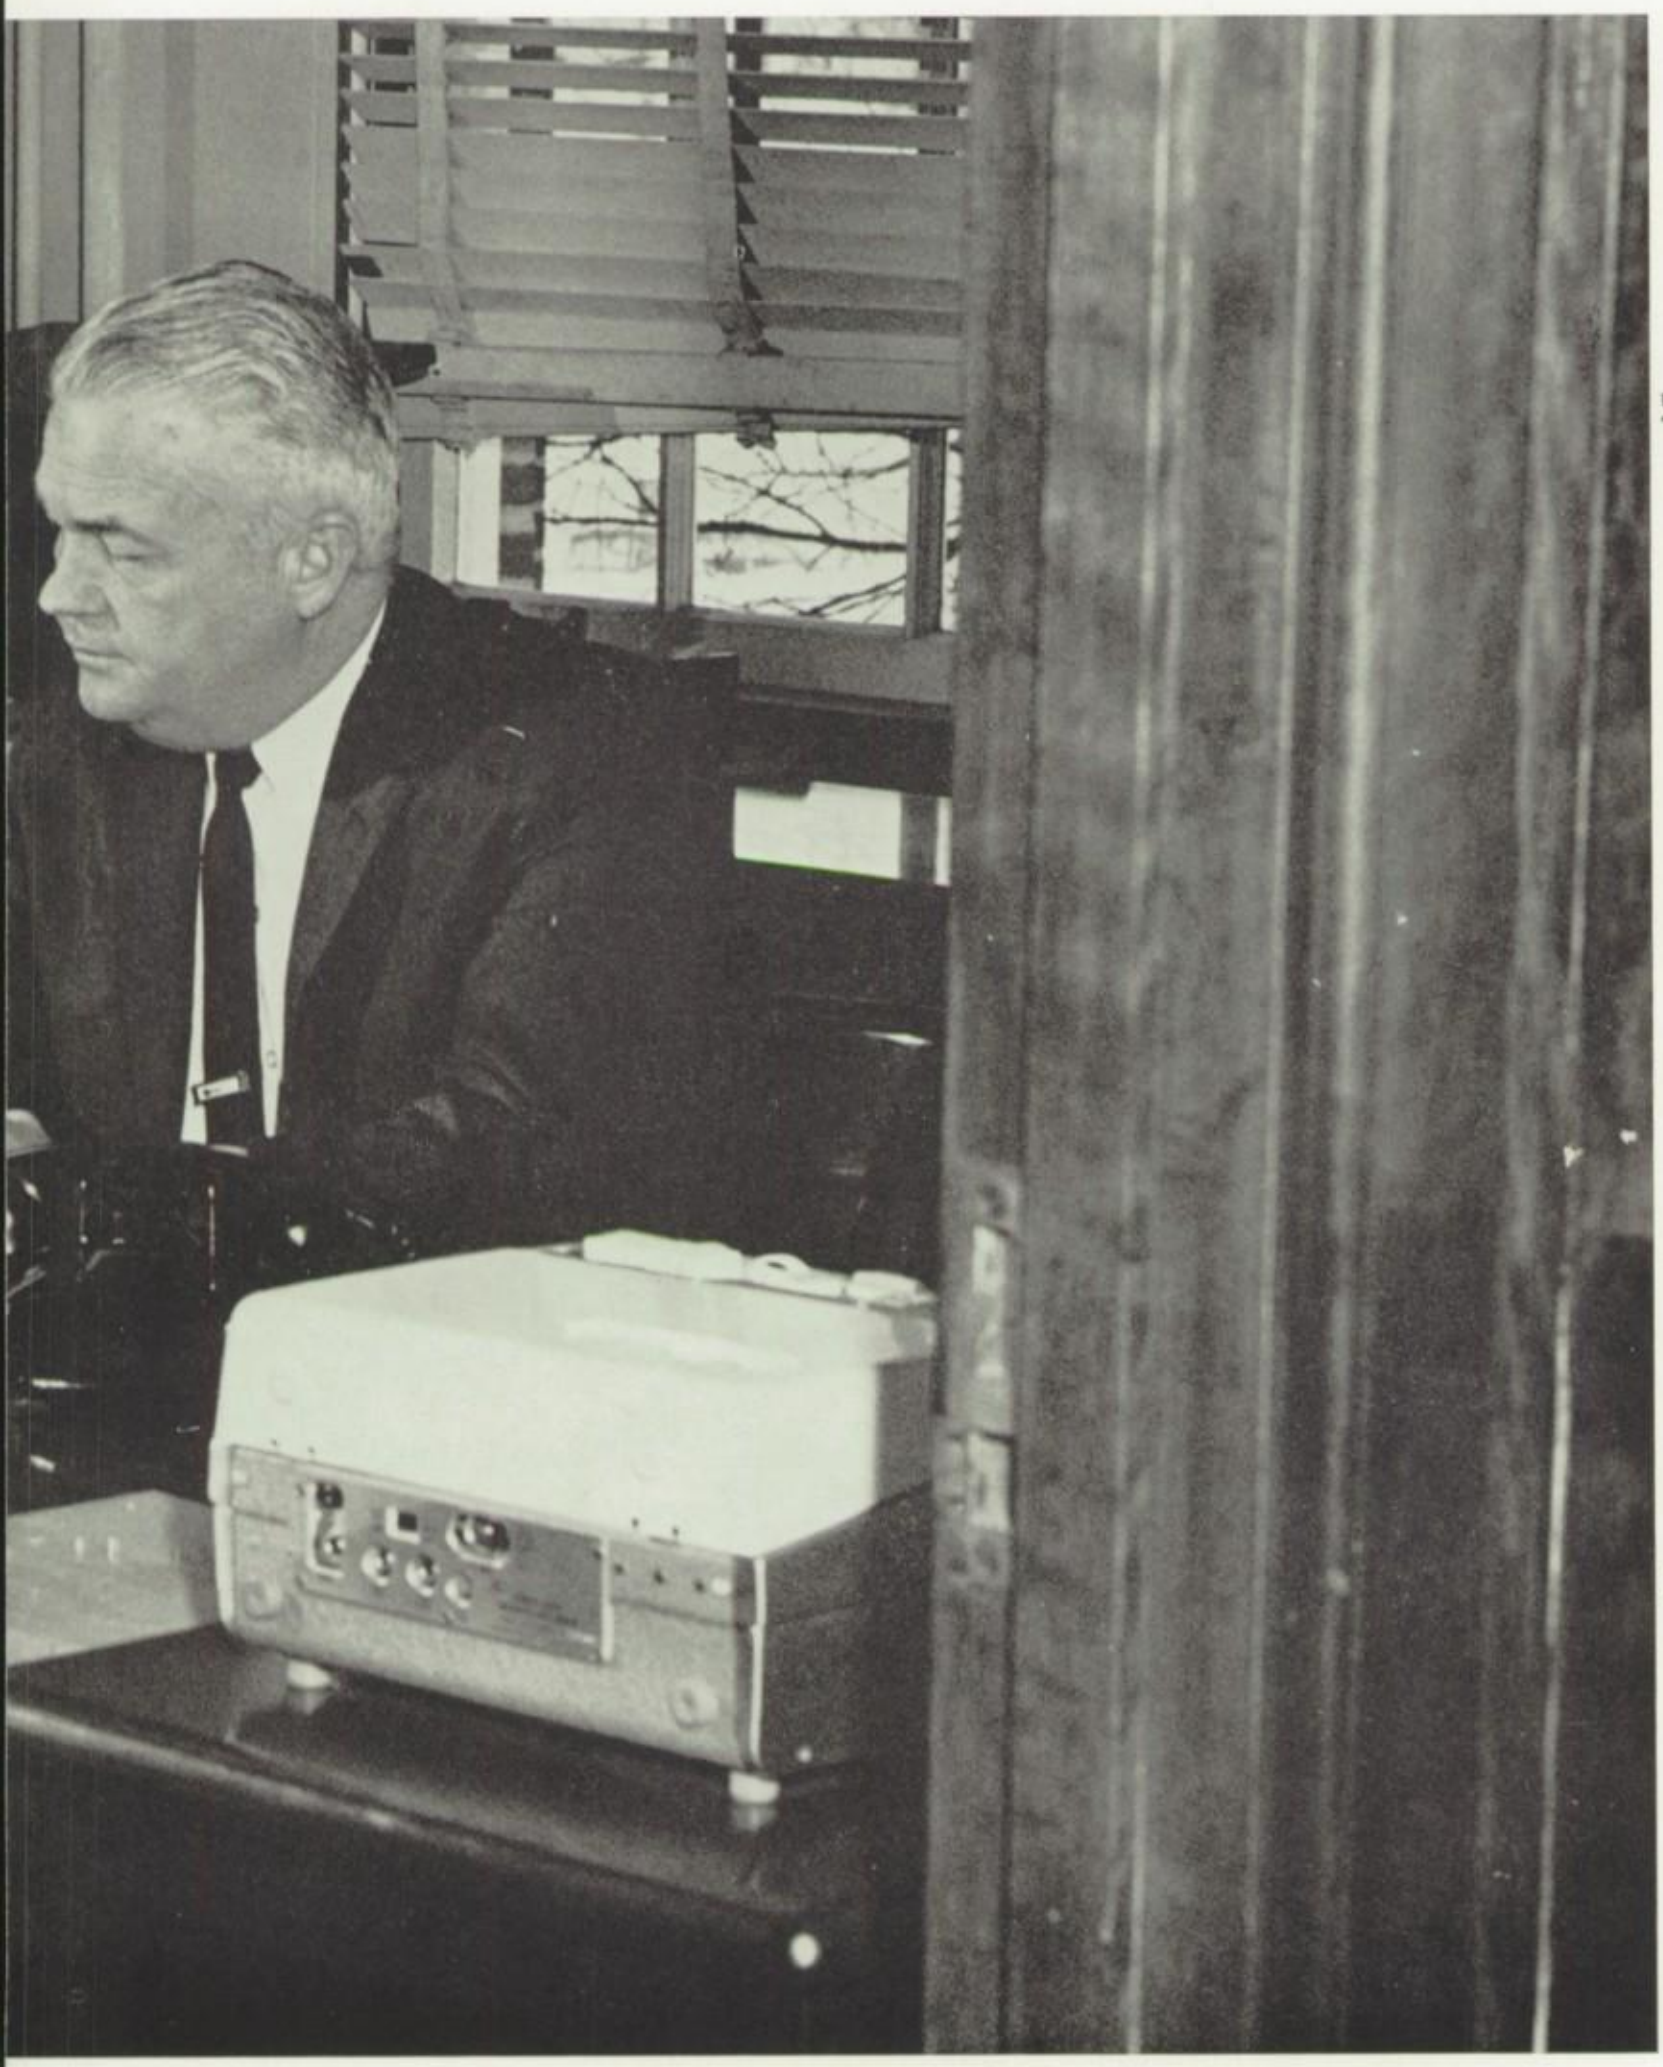
Administration



CONFLICTS IN SCHEDULE must be resolved in order to give students the greatest opportunity for learning.



and Faculty



Superintendent

Dr. Carl Wagner, superintendent of Enid Public Schools, continued his program of strengthening every phase of the school system. Research, with an eye toward the future, was an underlying thought in every new approach. New teaching methods, new equipment, and improved working atmosphere were several of 1962's educational contributions.

A new and expanded kindergarten program was introduced along with a program in the junior highs in accordance with the new state law of six fifty-five minute periods per day.

Dr. Wagner was in charge of planning and carrying out a school program for fifteen elementary schools, three junior high schools, and Enid High School. Some of his other responsibilities included the purchasing and supplying of equipment, selecting of a teaching staff, and the outlining of administrative policies in conjunction with the Board of Education.

Dr. Wagner believed in firm discipline, but also in listening to opinions of others. Open-mindedness to new concepts, sensitivity to emotions of his teaching staff and members of the community were also outstanding personal traits. Welfare of all students was a most important factor in all decisions.

Though many new phases could not be tested, and not all new methods succeeded, Dr. Wagner felt that progress rested on experimentation.

Board Strives For Top Educational Advantages

Enid's seven-member Board of Education gave hours of careful planning to the many complex problems involved in providing the best schools possible for Enid students.

Faced with ever stiffening educational requirements, teacher shortages, changes in state laws, and present day demands for skill in techniques, these men sought the best program possible for Enid children.

Principal

Over fourteen-hundred students and faculty members turned to one man for guidance during 1962. That man was Mr. O. T. Autry, principal. Kind, but firm, friendly, reliable, understanding, with the ability to make the right decision at the right time characteristic of a good leader, were traits continually exhibited exhibited by him.

Always willing to help a student, Mr. Autry gave many extra hours before and after school in showing and teaching a student the way to an admirable life. In his actions, in his words, in his ideals, he expressed his deep concern for all.

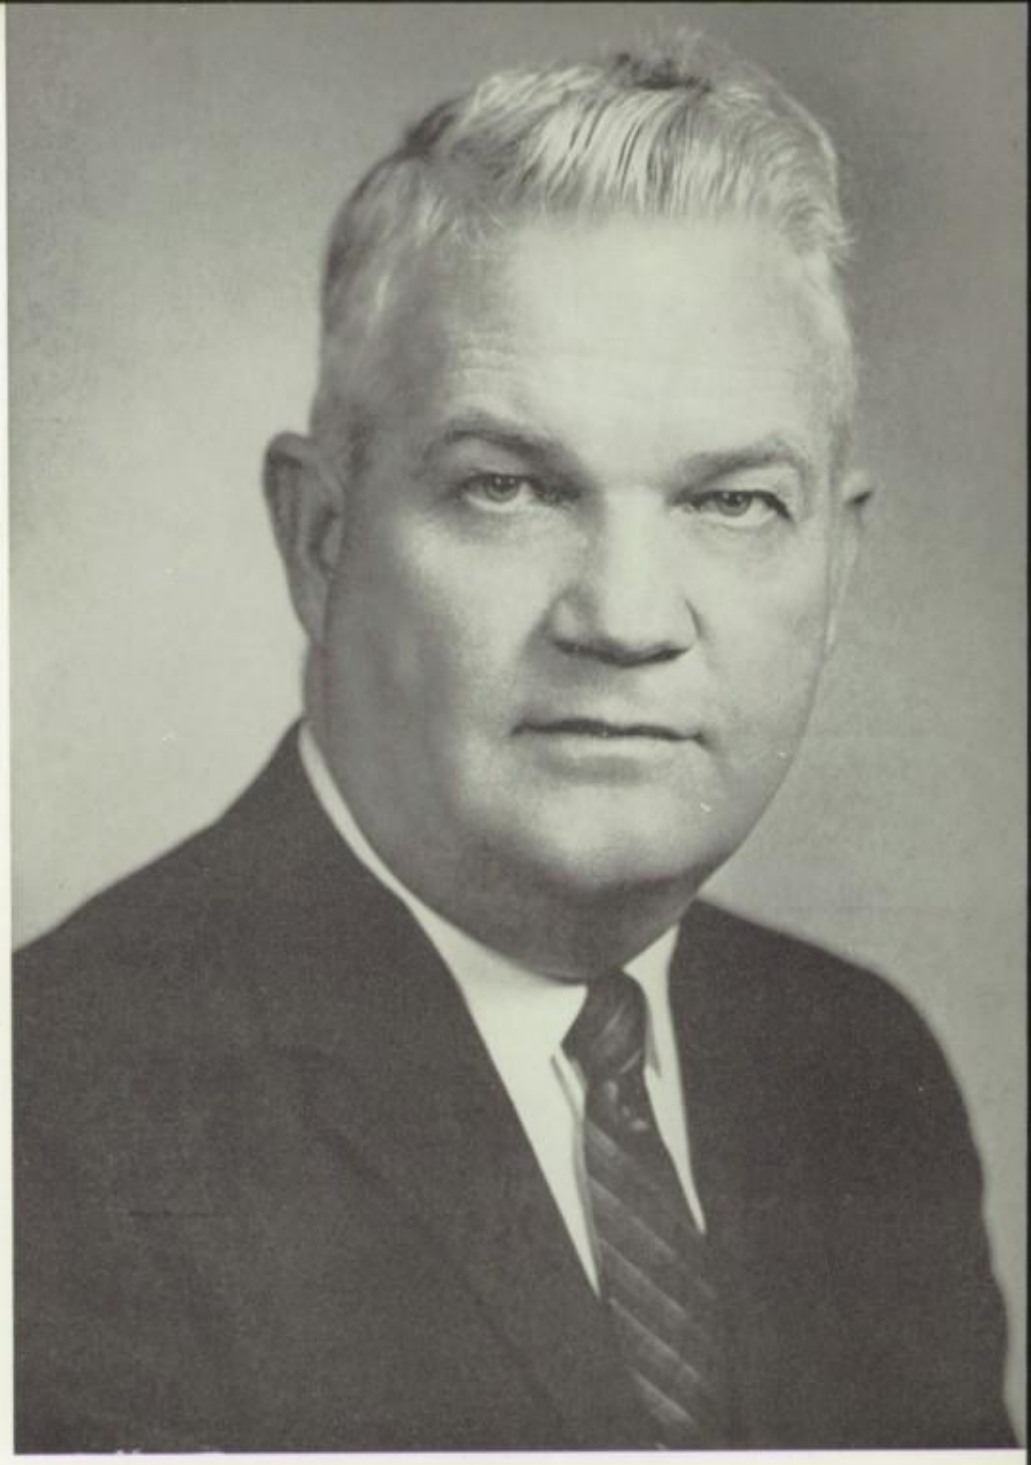
During his third year at E.H.S. Mr. Autry continued emphasizing complete enrollment, extra session summer school, and new classes.

Giving advanced knowledge in all areas and teaching students to live with the new education was Mr. Autry's goal for his students.



Mr. O. T. Autry

Mr. O. T. Autry

Assistant Principal

His equity, integrity, and graciousess helped many students at Enid High School meet numerous problems. Jack Webb, assistant principal, has held this administrative position for the past three years, but has been at E.H.S. for the past seven in the administrative and coaching field.

Known for his tact in handling student-teacher relations, Mr. Webb handled problems with deserved success. Filling-in when Mr. Autry was out of town, working out schedule changes with students and teachers and dealing with disciplinary cases, he always maintained a receptive attitude.

Included in Mr. Webb's family are his wife Gloria and their three sons: David, seven; Danny, five; and Kirby, four.

Three Consecrated E.H.S. Instructors Retire

Miss Florel Helema, Mrs. Lois Vance, and Edgar Michael, three teachers who have given their lives to education, this year retired from the teaching profession.

Miss Helema, who has taught advanced math in Enid for thirty-nine of her forty-one teaching years, declared that the things she would remember the longest from her teaching career are the students who have been her life. "Not their faces, maybe; but their high ideals, their intensity, and their wonderful attitude. These things don't change and they aren't easily forgotten."

In fact, this was the attitude of all three teachers. Mr. Michael, who had formerly been superintendent of several small schools before coming to Enid eight years ago as a science and math teacher, said that he has enjoyed most of all the closer contact it has meant with students.

In the home economics department, Mrs. Vance never got to know boys too well, but she has taught a continuous succession of girls at Enid High School since 1928. However, she commented that she remembered one year when nineteen football boys took her class. Some of them were going to be doing their own cooking the next year in college; others planned to major in physical education and needed to know about nutrition.

"I'll never forget their intelligence or enthusiasm," she said. "It was really quite an experience having them."

Also not easily forgotten are the friendships that grow up with other members of the faculty. Individual students come and go, but the faculty remains from year to year.

Miss Florel Helema

Faculty Joins Students In Many Enterprises

FREQUENTLY SEEN ATTENDING Enid High School events are Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCreary preparing to sample the food served in the cafeteria during Open House.

Faculty and students bonded together to promote the highest education in both classroom and during after school hours. Completing relationships in hourly sessions during the day and extracurricular activities, lasting friendships were built between students and teachers.

Starting every day at eight o'clock, teachers and pupils arrived to begin the day adding another stone of knowledge to the strong foundation. Taking books, their own experiences, and new techniques, instructors presented to the youth a way to live a better life than they had known. Each generation passed on to the next its highest achievements.

Play casts, bandmen, athletes, chorus members, all made lasting memories by associating in areas with people who had something to give to them and willingly gave it. Always there to guide and listen with understanding, whether in learning how to fix a yo-yo or find a lost textbook, faculty members proved to be friends.

Sixty faculty members stood behind the scenes in every school activity that was to be carried on by more than thirteen-hundred teenagers.

"NEW EQUIPMENT WILL cut down the number of injuries," explains Harvey Griffin, athletic director, to Frank Shive, football and swimming coach.

PAT MURPHY, KCRC radio manager, holds the mike, while George Watson, 1961 graduate, presents Jim Stroup, basketball coach for six years, with a transistor radio for work with the youth of Enid.

Discussing commerce in the background are Miss Muriel Koger and Mrs. Lea Ida Boyle, typing instructors.

"IT'S JUST A frog," think Frank Markowics, Cheryl Willis, Ginger Hart, and Billy Martinek, but when Mr. Michael tells his students about it, it becomes important and very interesting.

Quintet Strives For Highest Achievement Year

"CHARGE!" CHANT FOURTEEN hundred enthusiastic Plainsmen during the first football assembly! Taught the yell by Coach Harvey Griffin two years ago, students love it! Everyone stands at the call of a bugle and sends the team into action with a mighty wave of a hand and roof raising voices.

QUEEN MARVA KAYE Waring and her attendants, Katy Holden and Sharon D. Jones, escorted by Earl Skarky, captain, Tip McCubbins, and Doyle Newsom, are in the spotlight as they waltz. The all-school dance held in her honor after the Enid-Shawnee basketball game climaxes the week of eager anticipation for everyone. Seniors are again the center of attraction when royalty is chosen by Enid High students. Juniors and sophomores honor the queen with varied entertaining talents during the evening.

Work ! Yes ! - But Sessions Bring Togetherness

DURING LUNCH THE cafeteria becomes a meeting place for groups of friends and couples to discuss the latest gossip over sandwiches and cokes or a balanced meal. Here Virginia Fields, Katheryne Summey, Glenda Summey, Connie Weaver, and Cynthia White take advantage of the time between morning and afternoon classes to talk about the latest news. In the background Jimmy Hurst and Linda Mourer plan a future date. The cafeteria provides a chance for Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes to become better acquainted and gain new friends.

CHANICS of SEEING PROBLEMS
Purpose: Increase others as well as my own knowledge of the eye
Analysis: After I dissected and measured 100 cows' eyes, I found the average measurements and colors of eyes as well as further acquainted myself with the parts of the eye. I chose the study of cows' eyes because Conclusion: through my experiments I found the following to be true

Two hundred and ten students, faculty, and business men of Enid gathered for the Twenty-First Annual Vocational Education Employer-Employee Banquet on February 8, 1962, at the Youngblood Hotel.

Mr. Jack Tresner, featured speaker, was introduced by David Devers, toastmaster. Speaking on the attitude of one's youth in building his future, Mr. Tresner told the youth to prepare mentally for the coming years. Cois Stewart gave the invocation and was followed by Bryan Padgett who welcomed the many guests.

Lt. James Gamble, professional puppeteer, entertained the guests with the antics of his various toys on string.

Forty-six businesses from the Enid area were represented by managers and owners who employed the students.

D.E.-D.O. students sold concessions at football games to raise the expenses for their project. The club sponsored by Mr. Tom Kennedy, instructor of D.O., and Mr. Jewel Ridge, instructor of D.E., later attended the annual Leadership Conference at Oklahoma City.

MR. JACK TRESNER, local insurance man, explains to audience the importance of daily attitude to success in any career.

LT. JAMES GAMBLE thrills the audience with his "Mr. Bones" and several other puppets while entertaining students and guests for thirty minutes.

ENJOYING THE BANQUET are Prof. and Mrs. Glenn Rockwell, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bruce Selby, and Mrs. Jewel Ridge. Administration, faculty members, and employees are all special guests at this annual occasion.

PHYSICS IS FASCINATING and Ken Duckert, Tom Rempel, Jim Gritz, James Brown III and Jerry Martin certainly are interested as James shows fellow students atoms in action with new science equipment. Schools must keep up with changing world.

Parents Visit School During Education Week

BOBBY KIRTS RUNS the Quill hot off the press as interested onlookers wait for their copy. Education is in action when students can show parents the results of hard work.

DR. AND MRS. Paul Rempel head the line of visitors during Open House who decide to try a sample of the food available to E.H.S. students each day in the cafeteria.

Doors of E.H.S. were opened on November 7 to parents and other guests who wished to meet instructors, visit classrooms, and see students' academic progress for this school year.

Aquaettes displayed various strokes and performed numerous difficult as well as exciting stunts in the swimming pool.

In the gymnasium, physical education classes illustrated the fundamentals of basketball.

Colorful maps, charts, and reports decorated the walls of many social science and English classes.

The Journalism Department supplied each guest with a Quill, bi-weekly school newspaper edited by Journalism students and published with overtime labor by students in the Printing Department.

Student Council representatives served as hosts and hostesses helping each guest find his way about the building and keeping a record of attendance in the guest book.

Mr. Autry felt that Open House was an opportunity for him to meet and talk with parents about new graduation requirements.

JULIA ROSS AND LaDonna Hueppelsheuser listen to Milton Garber, Editor of Enid Daily Eagle and Enid Morning News, discuss his field of journalism.

CAREER DAY ATTRACTS speakers from numerous fields as they try to give students knowledge of their varied experiences.

GROUP DISCUSSIONS GIVE students time to inquire concerning civil service requirements for first hand information from the speaker.

MRS. EVELYN BEETCH, head of Beetch's Beauty College, gives advice on personal grooming to interested senior girls.

"SAVE ME A seat in the assembly!" "Got to run, have a lit. test." "See you at lunch." These are only a few of the comments that can be heard in the halls of E.H.S. as 1400 pass to next hour classes.

Continuous Pace Of Activity Is Exhilarating

FRANKIE NORRIS, SALLY Bushnell, Edith Thesman, and Lois Grammont are learning the importance of a well-balanced breakfast.

DISCUSSING THE VARIOUS lathes and milling machines, Mr. Robert Pyle, machine shop instructor, points out a new chuck to Stanley Green and Richard Vogt.

EUGENE GRIFFIN HAS disciplined perfection from student instrumentalists giving that extra effort that is the difference in intricate, but harmonious, musical patterns.

TOM NILES' CLASS in mechanical drawing is a must for boys interested in architecture or engineering as a future vocation. Their deep interest in the problem at hand shows they take it seriously.

"LOVELY TO LOOK at" croons the Boys' Glee Club as they serenade the Basketball Queen and her attendants during one phase of the entertainment in honor of the occasion.

Living Dimensional Depth Is The Accent

MR. HOWARD CHINN, guidance director, discusses scholarships with June Leighnor and Rita Davis, while in the background Mrs. Florence Scott looks on ready to assist.

A TYPICAL STUDENT-TEACHER relationship is illustrated as Miss Mildred Montgomery, Spanish instructor, demonstrates to her pupils how to operate the complicated machine.

MRS. DAVE BUCHER, assistant to the librarian, types card for Enid's library. Always ready to help students find that certain book, she is a fine asset to the staff.

"GET THAT BALL" shout girls during the frantic scramble for the scoop ball points. Competitive spirit, sportsmanlike conduct, and friendships grow while students enter activities.

WORKING AND EXPERIMENTING in water color are Eilene Batterman, Carolyn Robertson, Gary Baker, Irene Bond, and Lee Dudley. Art combines the variety of portrait drawing, outdoor sketching, clay, modern art, design, and the understanding skill of Miss Katherine Bales as she seeks to bring out each student's creativeness.

Freedom To Try Develops Individuality

BOYS INTERESTED IN learning how to construct various types of objects made from wood, such as tables, chairs, skis, chests, gun racks, and dressers are instructed in the art of woodwork by Mr. Myrl Kirk, craftsman.

SENIORS BEING MEASURED for caps and gowns enjoy the humor of Mrs. Florence Scott, Mr. O. T. Autry, and Mr. Jack Webb. Final measurement won't be known until graduation.

Setting a final slug of type on first floor or evaluating the current in closed circuit in the third floor physics lab, students, classrooms, faculty, and halls rounded out the curriculum at Enid High.

A bit of books, several modern machines, energetic teachers, a cafeteria, swimming pool, and such special events as the Aquaette show piece together the various activities of a school year on first floor.

Climbing the stairs to second youth stole down the hall, passed the main office, auditorium, the literature rooms, library, and gazed for a moment at the gymnasiums. Plays, assemblies, and concerts thrilled audiences and protected an American heritage in the assembling of Enid folk.

Quietly third floor fell under the eyes of the curious future and responded with science, business, a costume room, foreign language labs, and halls of students just like its predecessors first and second.

All was quiet at night and halls lingered on wishfully waiting for the students to return and reclaim the knowledge they held.

Sadie Hawkins Season Opens On Bashful Beaux

KATHY DELCAMBRE IS determined to catch her fellow, Mike Davis, and proclaim the opening of Sadie Hawkins week on the L'il Abner assembly. Fine times and free dates await those eager lads.

SINGING THEIR WAY into the hearts of the student body the mixed chorus, under the direction of Miss Maurine Morrow, present a special patriotic assembly which leaves the students spellbound with new respect for America.

The month of February brought many events such as Valentine's Day and Washington's birthday, but to E.H.S. femininty the only activity in their minds was the annual Sadie Hawkins Week, which was held throughout the week of 22-28.

Beginning the merriment, Monday night found most E.H.S. students at the various pizza parlors. With Tuesday came "Patch Day" and the Lil' Abner Assembly. On this day the girls made patches for the boys they wished to take to the dance. During the assembly, Martin Peninger was crowned Lil' Abner for 1962 and reigned supreme throughout the remaining days.

Wednesday the boys were treated to Banana Splits after school and were asked to go to church later that evening. Thursday was bowling night, and the local alleys were filled with laughing students trying for that first strike. Friday—game night. Enid Plainsmen hosted the Midwest City Bombers and a special date section added plenty of cheer to insure Plainsmen spirit. After the game everyone enjoyed music and dancing at the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Saturday was show night, and the E.H.S. girls also took the boys to dinner.

CARA SUE MORTON, Connie Frantz, Barbara Combs, Kay Beebe, Anita Hosey, Ann Field, Wenona Rogers, Bill Oden, Terry Kirton, Errol Kesner, Jeannie Geis, Ronnie Reid, and Diana Semke rehearse the all-school play, "Ask Any Girl."

Three Classes Unite To "Ask Any Girl"

ROBERT FISHER, LETSY Muir, Helen Davis, and Ann Harbaugh anxiously await a telephone call from Meg who has decided to become a New York career girl.

As any girl plainly knows, her most vital weapon is the use of statistics

In the all-school play given November 9 in the Enid High auditorium, Jeanne Geis as Meg Wheeler vanquished her parents (Robert Fisher and Helen Davis) and two maiden aunts (Letsy Muir and Ann Harbaugh) with this deadly weapon and headed for New York. There, after it had been duly inspected by her family, she took up residence in the Madison Avenue Girls' Hotel, and, despite dour predictions from the other boarders, won a good job and the attention of playboy Evan Doughton (Ronnie Reed).

It was then that Meg decided that something more than statistics must be needed to win Evan, and, with the help of his older brother Miles (Errol Kesner) she embarked on a methodical campaign to give Evan everything he ever wanted in a girl—within reason. This included a new hair style, new make-up, new clothes, and a new way of dancing, talking, and laughing. But it was expensive; although a long distance phone call home did much to fix that.

However, after all this trouble and changing herself to please Evan, Meg decided she didn't really want to marry him after all. So when Evan proposed, Meg announced her intention of marrying brother Miles, who liked her better the way she was anyway.

The play was directed by Mrs. Delyte Poindexter, supported by various committees.

Largest Class Stages "Tammy Tell Me True"

February the first ended weeks of practice, hard work, and fun for thirty-one members of the cast, student directors, committees, and stage crew, for this was the eve of the annual senior play, "Tammy Tell Me True."

Scene one opened as Tammy (Claudia Bushner) and her Grandpa (Jack Tresner) were putting the gangplank of their shanty boat on the river's edge of the Mississippi. Tammy came down the river to the rural South to attend the "Big fine State College" so that her boyfriend, Pete (Don Frazier), wouldn't be ashamed of her. However, Miss Jenks (Jane Sturdivant), Dean of Women, found it absolutely impossible for Tammy to live on a shanty boat alone while her Grandpa was doing "time" in the county jail. Tammy would have to find a live-in job at some respectable home or she couldn't attend the college.

Professor Tom Freeman (Bill Buchanan) recommends Tammy for the companion of Mrs. Call (Judy Farrell), an old woman who has grown tired of life and is about to give in to the domination of her niece, Sandra (Christine Collier). The rich Mrs. Call leaves home without telling anyone and causes a hysterical situation throughout the final scenes of the play.

Thespians Give Steinbeck's "Molly Morgan"

This year's Thespian play, "Molly Morgan," under the direction of Mrs. Delyte Poindexter, was given March 29 in the Enid High auditorium.

The play, taken from a novel by John Steinbeck, was set in the Pastures of Heaven, a small town in California, in 1920. The first World War was just over, and the Roaring Twenties had not yet begun. It was a time between times. Life was stripped of a covering of conflicts, and one could see it better as it really was.

Young and pretty, Molly Morgan, played by Diana Semke, came to the Pastures of Heaven to be the new schoolmarm straight out of teachers' college and full of high ideals. It seemed like the Pastures of Heaven was always getting a new school teacher. For some reason, none of them ever stayed longer than a year.

Molly found the town full of love and understanding, self-righteousness and prejudice. How she coped with this and with her own problems from the past concerning her family and a ne'er do well father made the story of the play.

Like the other two plays, this was under the direction of Mrs. Delyte Poindexter.

"YOU GET OUT!" screams Letsy Muir at Errol Kesner as their children, Diana Semke and Jimmy McHenry, look on. Errol leaves to go once more on his roving ways.

"SCOOT!" SUE ELLEN Mahaffey tells Don Barnes, Bill Oden, and Mike Wacha as Robert Fisher, Diana Semke and Earl Skarky who are seated at the table look on amused.

Voices Beam Across Plains During Radio Day

"YOU'RE ON, ROBERT," cues Dale Nelson and Jim Nay as Allan Page, manager of K. G. W. A. checks to see that everything goes smoothly. Robert Fisher pushes the button to start the early morning newscast.

Highlighting the year for the Enid High School Radio & T.V. class was the annual Radio Day which was held at the studios of KGWA, a local radio station. The students of the class worked during their study halls and before and after school to announce the various programs, read news reports, give commercials, and be the disc jockeys for the music shows. Besides gaining valuable information of the mechanics of a radio station, the students all agreed that this day would be one not to be soon forgotten. After Radio Day was completed, the students of the class presented Allan Page, manager of the studio, and his staff with a plaque which expressed their sincere appreciation for the time spent with helping the students in this project.

Radio and TV—a chance for each boy and girl to learn the true rules of expressing himself through speaking. During the year the students studied many problems in everyday speaking. Through this, stage fright was overcome by all and self-assurance was acquired by the most timid student.

Something new was added to the course this year. Upon special request by Dr. Carl Wagner, Superintendent of the Enid School System, the class promoted a stronger feeling of Americanism to the high school pupil. Each morning after the announcements, a student from the class would present material on America. Much of the material presented was written by the students in the classroom. At the end of the year, a poll was taken to see what effect this had on the E.H.S. students. All thirty-three homerooms voted that their students had benefitted from the messages.

Inter-school contests were a main part of the year. There were many divisions in which the students could participate. Those divisions included: poetry, humorous, debate, oratory, duet acting, extemp, and radio. Enid High students received many superior ratings and won third in the State Speech Tournament in Norman, March 25-26.

Pride Of E.H.S. Has 127 Member Marching Unit

The "Pride of E.H.S." under the direction of Eugene H. Griffin, marched through another year packed full of work, fun, and achievement. The "Big Blue" attended every home game and made a trip to Norman adding that extra umph needed to cheer the Plainsmen on to victory. They worked long and hard to present the best half-time and pre-game shows possible at every game whether it be football or basketball. At the band's second appearance September 8 Jay Lindell, band president, crowned Quinda Seem band queen for the coming 1961-62 year.

Enid spectators commented enthusiastically on the intricate precision marching, varied formations, and disciplined appearance of the band, both in marching and playing and participation throughout events.

The band created their own football team at the annual picnic honoring the sophomores, an unforgetable memory for all band members. As time passed and marching was under way, Larry Haskins was chosen as junior drum major to assist Tom Roe, senior drum major.

Adding a new touch to the familiar sounds of the band was a new group, the percussion ensemble. They played for several engagements around the state, concluded by a concert at Phillips University February 15. A pit orchestra was formed to aid the chorus in some of their appearances throughout the state giving the chorus an added new depth.

An unusual source of pride to the organization was the six students chosen for the All-State Band. Members felt this was a large number to be taken from one school. March 14 and 15 was an important day for the Symphonic Band as they traveled to Alva to compete in district competition. They received a first division rating in both sight reading and concert which allowed them to go to state.

One of the biggest events of the year for the band is the annual "Symphony Song and Swing" which was presented April 15. The concert was divided into three parts. First was the symphonic band followed by the stage band which entertained with popular music of the past and present. Concluding the program was the concert band consisting of all 130 pieces of the E.H.S. high school band.

May 3-5 could find the band scurrying from event to event during the annual Tri-State Festival. The band did itself proud by bringing in many well deserved honors in all kinds of competition.

May 12 after many months of working and planning, the sophomores and juniors gave one of the finest banquets in the history of the E.H.S. band. The banquet was given at Oakwood country club with a large dinner, entertainment, and a dance.

The year was concluded with the May Fete and Graduation exercises, a truly sad event for all band members for they realized that the seniors were truly gone forever. It had been a wonderful year with lots of fun, much hard work, and many well deserved honors, a year that would be remembered by all throughout the coming years.

Chorus Gives Command Performance For OEA

One-hundred Enid High Mixed Chorus members, under the direction of Miss Maurine Morrow, added sparkle and glamour to the 1961-62 school year.

Chorus accepted an invitation to sing at the October meeting of the Oklahoma Education Association held at Municipal Auditorium, Oklahoma City. Selections included in the program were: "Sound of Music Medley," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," "Stars and Stripes Forever," and two numbers accompanied by Enid High pit orchestra, "God of Our Fathers" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." During the "Stars and Stripes Forever," as the curtains were drawn to display "Old Glory" waving in the breeze, the audience, so moved by the impact of the performance, rose to its feet to applaud.

In November, chorus members boarded buses and headed for Stillwater, Oklahoma, where they participated in the Thanksgiving Music Festival held on the O.S.U. campus.

Christmas season came and with it melodious strains which filled the halls as the Chorus rehearsed for the Christmas Vespers at Convention Hall and the Christmas assembly. Both traditional carols and novelty numbers added warmth to this special season.

May brought many memorable events for the group. Of most importance was the "Time To Sing" program which featured music written by American composers.

Girls' Chorus opened with a most appropriate song, Irving Berlin's "Say It With Music." The spotlight was also on popular numbers from Broadway shows by such composers as: Victor Herbert, Sigmund Romberg, George Gershwin, Leonard Bernstein, and Henry Mancini.

The scene shifted to American folk songs: "Charlottown," "Reuben and Rachel," and contrary to the wishes of the girls, "I Have Decided To Be an Old Maid."

Other highlights of the program were: "Red Wing," in which Kay Abercrombie, in an interpretative dance, portrayed a young Indian maiden, "Rock-a-ma-Soul," Negro spiritual, soloists, Faith Miller and Kathleen Wiley, and an old time favorite, "Dearie," featuring Diana Semke and Dennis Schneider doing a soft-shoe dance with a torrid twist variation, and "Hey! Look Me Over," the plea of Girls' Glee Club, as they showed their versatility in a dazzling dance routine.

During the program the auditorium took on an air of royalty as the E. H. S. chorus crowned their 1962 queen, Linda Clinesmith. King David Schroeder placed the royal crown upon her head and bestowed the traditional kiss. Attendants were: Linda Parrish, Susie Luckinbill, Martha Krausse, Diane Goodman, Robert Fisher, Bob Burnett, Kenneth Whittenburg, and Klemit Arrington. Linda then reigned throughout the remainder of the year, possessing the beauty, grace, and charm typical of all E. H. S. royalty.

In the finale, the combined Girls and Mixed Chorus expressed the prayer of all American composers in Irving Berlin's ever-famous "God Bless America."

Repertoire Ranges From Bach To Beethoven

PREPARING TO TRAVEL to Stillwater for the annual Thanksgiving choral festival are four orchestra members and their director, Eugene Griffin. The orchestra will present a concert later this evening with other groups.

Enid High School's small but mighty orchestra has a wide selection of repertoire, ranging from baroque style to Bach, Beethoven, Schubert, and contemporary composers. Under the direction of Mr. Eugene Griffin, the orchestra presented its annual Spring Concert in April which included such numbers as Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" and Bloch's "Kol Nidre."

Each year the orchestra entered various music contests, the most important one being Tri State and upheld her school with high ratings in both ensemble and solo brackets. Individual members often entered District and State contests, always adding to the prestige of Enid High School.

The small string group with the assistance of several band members formed the Pit Orchestra this year which accompanied the Enid High Mixed Chorus at the Oklahoma Education Association Convention, the Rotary Club, the Lions Club, and the patriotic assembly. Two numbers in which the orchestra assisted were: "God of Our Fathers" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

This year three members from the orchestra were selected to participate in the All-State Symphony; they were Bill Cromwell, bass; Jodie Bevers, cello; Floyd Mansfield, viola; and Carolyn Medlock, violin.

Top Row: Daniels, G. Price, J. Mills, C. Lash, Womack, Kruse, Hoisington, McKeever, A. Crawford, K. Cornelius, Preston, Hannaford, Weyerts, Britton, Huffman, K. Summey, Morris, S. Bell, S. Girls Create Magical Moods In Harmony

Eighty-eight members of the Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Miss Maurine Morrow, spent the year working on numbers for assemblies, the Christmas Vespers, their annual "Time to Sing" program, and the Tri-State Music Festival.

Girls' Chorus presented several traditional Christmas carols besides singing with the massed chorus at the Christmas Vesper program, December 17, in the Enid Convention Hall. They sang "God of Our Fathers," "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen," and "All Were There." Combined Girls' Chorus and Girls' Glee Club presented "The Shepherds."

As the curtain opened for the "Time to Sing" program on May 2, the Girls' Chorus displayed a rainbow of color in their fifteen pastel shades of dresses. Selections presented were George Gershwin medley, "Say It with Music" by Irving Berlin, Victor Herbert's "Moonbeams" from "The Red Mill," "I Feel Pretty" from "West Side Story" and "Serenade" from "The Student Prince" by Sigmund Romberg. Modern to American Folk Songs began with "Reuben and Rachel," "Charlottown" and, although they really didn't mean it—"I Have Decided to be an Old Maid."

Finishing out the year, the girls presented two numbers in the Tri-State Music Festival, one accompanied and the other unaccompanied.

LINDA CLINESMITH and David Schroeder reign as 1962 Chorus Queen and Herald. Their court is composed of: reading clock-wise: Robert Fisher, Martha Krausse, Klemit Arrington, Susie Luckinbill, Linda Parrish, Kenneth Whittenberg, Diane Goodman, Bob Burnett.

Bond, Eden, Hodge, Murphy, Hogue, Webb, J. Buchanan, J. Collins, Parks, Seal, M. Campbell, Tabreau, G. Summey, Pendleton, H. Plainsmen Snatch Second Spot In Mid-State

The '61 edition of the Enid Plainsmen burst forth with power and speed. A new ruling gave an extra ten days of summer practice for high schools throughout the state. Using this time to the fullest, the Plainsmen were molded into a strong compact unit.

Harvey Griffin coached the Plainsmen to an 8-2 season in a year of stiff competition. In pre-season predictions the Plainsmen were ranked last in the Mid-State conference, but they had climbed to a second place rating by the end of the season. The Enid Eleven were also ranked in the top five throughout the season.

Willie Swan, guard, was the only Enid player who made the All-State team. All-Conference members were Dick Allen, Doug Frantz, Bill Gregory, Jerry Koop, Martin Peninger, and Willie Swan. Honorable mentions were Bill Buchanan, Bill Munn, and Paul Ott. In addition, Frantz and Swan were honorable mentions for Little All-American.

Enid opened its football season against Blackwell before the largest opening crowd in the stadium's history. Last year's 6-6 tie was forgotten as the powerful Plainsmen stomped Blackwell 58-8. Every play the Plainsmen tried seemed to work. Seven players scored the nine touchdowns as the Plainsmen ran up an outstanding 570 yards rushing and passing plus 22 first downs.

Enid traveled to Duncan for a second non-conference tilt. On the third play of the second quarter, Stanley Crowder burst across right tackle and romped 73 yards for the first Enid tally. Several plays later Bill Munn intrecepted a Duncan pass and sped 82 yards for the second touchdown. After fighting the third quarter to a draw the Plainsmen drove 67 yards with Denny Krout diving over from the one-yard line for the last Enid touchdown.

THOUGHTS ARE ON the Duncan Demons and hopes of victory for the second game of the season tonight.

Big Blue Boasts Best Record Since 1952

Enid High football came of age Friday, September 22, as the Plainsmen sank the Putnam City Pirates 30-22. Putnam City had been chosen to win both the Mid-State and State championships which made the Plainsmen the underdogs of the contest.

Enid shook the Pirates with a 16-point pace in the first quarter. Stanley Crowder returned a punt to the Pirate 30-yard line. Several plays later Crowder skirted his right end for 9 yards and the first Enid touchdown. With the help of Paul Ott, quarterback Jerry Koop made the extra points and Enid led 8-0. Willie Swan recovered a Pirate fumble on their 33. Koop hit Bill Buchanan with a pass to the Pirate 13. With Blocks by Swan, Crowder, and Buchanan, Koop migrated right for the second Enid T.D. Quarterback Harry Jones raced in for the two points. At this time Jerry Koop was taken out of the game with a slight concussion.

Jones then piloted the Plainsmen on a 70-yard drive climaxed with a 44-yard pass play from Jones to Munn, who took it away from two Pirate defenders and then raced into the end zone for another Plainsmen T.D.

The Pirates fought back with two second quarter touchdowns and a third quarter tally which climaxed a 90-yard drive and tied the score.

IT'S TOO HARD to sit on the sidelines and wait to see what happens. Footballers like spectators are anxious for the outcome.

Jones led the Plainsmen 64 yards and hit Martin Peninger with a 10-yard pass for the final Enid score. The Plainsmen then held the Pirates and took possession of the ball, freezing it for the remaining time. Enid football gained a new reputation but not without penalty. Paul Ott, Senior guard, was sidelined with a broken hand.

GET HIM GANG! Pursuit of the enemy and team tackling are superbly being shone by Harry Jones, 11, Doug Frantz, 42, Bill Buchanan, 83, Martin Peninger, 82, and Denny Krout, 41.

Shawnee was next on the Big Blue's roster. Another record crowd watched Enid roll over Shawnee 34-0. Stanley Crowder scored the first two touchdowns on runs of 16 and 36 yards. Quarterback Jerry Koop lofted a beautiful 47-yard pass to Doug Frantz for the third T.D. Harry Jones kept Enid's long run average alive by returning a punt 56 yards behind a wall of blockers for the fourth Enid touchdown. Fullback Joe Poslick finished the scoring by driving 21 yards in the center for the last Enid touchdown. Four games down and six to go!

It was fullback night when the Plainsmen met the dangerous Douglass Trojans. Enid's first tally climaxed an 85-yard drive as Denny Krout drove in from the 1-yard line. Douglass fought back and tied the score 8-8. Bill Munn took the ensuing kickoff and, with fabulous blocking, went 85 yards up the middle for the second Plainsmen score. The Plainsmen marched 63 yards in 8 plays for the third score as Jerry Koop lofted a 20-yard touchdown pass to Bill Buchanan. Denny Krout scored the fourth T.D. ending an 82-yard drive. Joe Poslick added the final Enid score as the Plainsmen stomped over Douglass, 36-14.

BILL BUCHANAN, 83, Plainsman right end, goes high in the air with a Midwest City Bomber to try for a soaring pass from Jerry Koop, 10, which helped Enid win 34-14.

Pigskin Bounces To 8 Consecutive Wins

Enid next tackled the Wildcats from Ponca City as they tried for their seventh consecutive win of the season. Scoring three touchdowns in the first half, the Plainsmen rallied again in the third quarter to add two more to their score. The Wildcats then staged a miraculous come-back in the fourth quarter, only to go down in defeat 35-24. Wynn Mabry, Junior halfback replacing the injured Stanley Crowder, ran wild for four of the touchdowns while Harry Jones startled the crowd with an 88-yard run for the fifth and final touchdown of the game. Highlight of the halftime ceremonies of the evening featured Doug Frantz, Senior tri-captain, crowning Diane Gearheard Football Queen for 1961. Doug then escorted the new member of E.H.S. royalty around the field.

Enid's last victory came at the hands of the Northwest Classen Knights, October 27, at Taft Stadium. Wynn Mabry, Willie Swan, Denny Krout, and Jerry Koop all scored touchdowns as Enid led 27-0 at the half. Willie, a lineman, got his chance to be a back as he intercepted a pass and hustled to the goal line. Northwest made a dying attempt in the second half to catch the Plainsmen as they scored two touchdowns in the last five minutes of the game. However, Enid, with its stiff defense, did prevail and won 27-13.

This year the Plainsmen played only 10 games instead of the usual 11. Because of the open date in the schedule, the Big Blue had a chance to recuperate from several minor injuries received in previous games.

The Enid High Eleven had trouble from the very start, and before the night had finished, were doomed to fall before the powerful Redskins.

Honor of serving as tri-captain of the football team was rotated between the Seniors so that each boy could have the honor of serving during one game.

This year a yellow plume was placed in the helmet of one of the tri-captains to lead the rest of the team onto the field. It was considered a good omen and to the players was their sign of success.

Seventeen Seniors Bow Out In Last Game

A record crowd of 8,200 fans came to see the Mid-State championship game between Enid and Capitol Hill. Enid's eight-game winning streak seemed to have no effect on the Hill as they turned Plainsmen errors into touchdowns. Jerry Koop scored the only Enid touchdown in the fourth quarter. The game ended in a 34-8 upset.

The Plainsmen ended their season with the Norman Tigers. The Tigers showed both power and speed as they overwhelmed the Plainsmen 42-12. Again Koop was the only Enid man to score. This was also the last game for the following seniors: Dick Allen, Jack Bell, Bill Buchanan, Doug Frantz, Bill Gregory, Mike Hammer, Jim Hurst, Jerry Koop, Kenneth Loesch, Dick Lundy, Bill Munn, Mervin Newman, Doyle Newsom, Paul Ott, Martin Peninger, Pete Seidl, and Willie Swan.

The Enid "B" team, the Highlanders, had an impressive season of five wins and three losses. The Highlanders, coached by Frank Shive and Tom Niles, were made up of sophomores and juniors whose main purpose was to find the positions best suited to their abilities.

WYNN MABRY, 23, is off again toward paydirt and that distant goal line during the Plainsmen Capitol Hill clash. Hope seems to fade for the junior halfback achieving the touchdown as enemy Redskins close in.

Students And Faculty Welcome Home Grads

STUDENTS, FACULTY, AND alumni dance away the night ending the annual Homecoming Day. Everyone is in good spirits after the win by the Plainsmen over the always powerful Ponca City Wildcats.

Early morning memories drifted from the past through the present and into the future. Students anxiously awaited the day while grads lingered in the halls discussing days of yesteryear as well as the game and dance on schedule for the day.

At ten o'clock on October 20 props, actors, cheerleaders, team, and audience kicked off the days with the E.H.S. Homecoming assembly. The theme, "You make a memory every day in high school," thrilled grads and students alike. Yesteryear's seniors thought of days gone by as spring graduates wondered at dreams to come.

Suspense was high as the climax of the day drew near. Three senior girls nominated by the football team and voted on by the student body eagerly awaited the halftime of the game when one of them would be crowned 1961 Football Queen.

Spirit that was generated in the early morning assembly continued throughout the day. Bravettes promoted the dance and game by selling the traditional mums and game programs. The team thundered over the Ponca City Wildcats at a score of 35-24.

Plainsmen Sweep El Reno Christmas Tournament

UP AND IN goes the ball as Wynn Mabry, 15, puts an easy lay up through the net. Three Shawnee Wolves arrive too late as Wynn has already got the jump on them.

Rugged competition at the John Marshall Christmas tournament turned out to be no match for the Enid "A" squad with victories over El Reno, 61-44, and Harding, 49-35. This exciting match was typical of Enid's season that climaxed with a fourth place rating in the Mid-State Conference and a record of 7-5.

The Plainsmen tipped the Duncan Demons, January 2, with a slight margin of 48-45. The lead changed three times and was tied three times in the first quarter. During the second quarter, a stiff Enid defense limited the Demons to six points. With the end of the half, the Plainsmen held a 24-22 lead. In the second half the Plainsmen and the Demons showed power in both their offensive and defensive plays as the lead changed hands six times. A 24-point coverage by Marty Bunnell pulled the Plainsmen through safely and victoriously.

January 9 the Enid Plainsmen traveled to the home court of the Capitol Hill Redskins, leaving with their first conference win. Cold shooting in the first quarter found the Plainsmen behind at the end of the half. Leo Escoe picked up the scoring slack and finished the night with 11 points. A furious second half charge led by Tip McCubbins netted the Enid Plainsmen a 43-33 victory. This game set the stage for the next conference tilt with the Northwest Classen Knights.

TIP McCUBBINS JUMPS high to get the rebound from the backboard and pass it to his teammates, Wynn Mabry, Leo Escoe and Earl Skarky. Trying just as hard to get the ball are the Knights, as fans eagerly await the outcome.

Six Seniors, Six Juniors, Round Out '62 Year

Spoiling Enid's winning streak, the Northwest Classen Knights won a 41-32 victory over the Plainsmen Friday, January 12. After jumping out to an early lead, Enid switched back and forth in the first period until unable to hold the advantage. This defeat did not discourage the Plainsmen, for they went on to win their second Mid-State Conference victory January 16 downing the Putnam City Pirates, 56-46. The 21-point defeat in the second quarter was too much for the losing Pirates.

A Homecoming loss to the Shawnee Wolves, 53-47, on January 19, was not altogether a downfall to the Plainsmen morale, for they gave the state's top ranked team more than they wanted in the first three quarters. Enid was in front for the last time at 40-39 with two minutes left in the third period.

January 26, the Douglass Trojans downed the Plainsmen 67-33. Enid's one consolation for the night was holding the Trojans' leading scorer to 9 points. Enid's score was divided fairly between 7 players. Marty Bunnell was high with 13 points, Royce Brown—9, and Doyle Newsom—6.

Plainsmen rapped the Alva Goldbugs 51-42 January 30. The aroused Plainsmen snapped a two-game losing streak by bouncing a good Alva team. This victory gave Enid a 7-6 record.

On February 2 the Enid Plainsmen again scuttled the Putnam City Pirates 61-40. This game opened slowly, but the Plainsmen poured on coal in the second and third period to pummel the visiting Pirates. Marty Bunnell put on a tremendous first half show with 16 points.

BUTCH BEATY JUMPS high to tip the ball to a fellow Plainsmen during the encounter with the Capitol Hill Redskins. Larry Haskins, 11, Bruce Crump, 13, Tom Plummer, 14, and Leo Escoe, 10, eagerly await the act of gravity to bring the ball into their reach.

Playing on the home courts February 6, the Plainsmen bounced El Reno 53-43. Wynn Mabry, an outstanding defensive player all season, blossomed into a solid offensive threat to lead the Plainsmen attack with 19 points.

Leo Escoe led the Plainsmen in their 63-33 victory over the Capitol Hill Redskins, February 9. He ended the evening with 15 points. Coach Stroup swept the bench by letting the second team play almost three quarters. This victory extended Enid's winning streak to four games.

The battling Enid Plainsmen turned their top performance of the season February 13, extending the Douglass Trojans to the limit before bowing 53-50 in a pressure-packed overtime.

Experiencing a cold night from the floor, the Enid Plainsmen were clipped by the Shawnee Wolves 48-42 on February 16. This loss left Enid with a 5-5 conference record. High scorers for the game were Marty Bunnell, 14, and Doyle Newsom, 12.

February 20 the Enid Plainsmen ripped the Northwest Classen Knights 62-53. Enid dominated the play most of the games and tossed an effective fast break to the Knights at several stages of the game, forcing them into costly fouls.

Showing their great appreciation and respect to Coach Stroup, the Plainsmen blasted Midwest City 59-55, February 23. They never trailed in the hectic game. Wynn Mabry led the Plainsmen with 19 points. During the halftime ceremonies, several of the local businesses paid their respects to Jim Stroup for his loyal service to Enid High during the past twelve years.

Enid lost the services of Harry Jones when he received a broken wrist in the Enid-Duncan tilt which ended in a Demon defeat over the Plainsmen 66-49, in the last game of the season on February 27.

Enid finished fourth in the Mid-State Conference with a record of seven wins against five defeats.

"GRAB THAT BALL gang!" think Earl Skarky, 22, Wynn Mabry, 15, and Doyle Newsom, 12, while teammates Marty Bunnell, 32, and Tip McCubbins, 23, battle Capitol Hill for the much treasured ball.

VIC FULTON, 50, jumps high to recover the ball from Capitol Hill as other "B" team members, Danny Winfield, 24, Mike Drisko, 42, and Jesse Eastman, 23, battle for the rebound.

Boys Gain Experience From Rugged Schedule

Future varsity regulars took seven victories while falling to twelve defeats during the 1961-62 season. The boys traveled with the Plainsmen squad and played their games early in the evening before the feature contest.

Fourteen boys worked out on the team in preparation for the day when they would join the varsity squad. Most of the boys were sophomores playing for the first time on a high school team and gained valuable experience for the future.

Jim Hudson, Bruce Kiefer, and Larry Haskins were high scorers during the year for the team coached by Tom Niles, athletic instructor.

Junior Plainsmen entered the Hillsdale Annual Christmas Tournament while the 'A' team went to Tulsa. Beating Freedom in the first match the team went down in defeat to Hillsdale in the finals.

Keith Burdett served as manager for the team.

Lettermen Unite To Generate Student Spirit

With the goal of drawing the boys and coaching staff of Enid High closer together, the Lettermen's Club promoted the desire for sports. The goal this year was achieved through loyal work to the school and the annual spring outing.

To be a letterman one must meet requirements of a certain number of quarters that had been played, innings or points. It all depends on the sport in which they participated. A weekly meeting was held to discuss new business and projects. Letter jackets, sweaters, or a hard-earned E were issued to many members for their part in athletics over a specific period.

A new attraction presented by the club this year was a Lettermen's Assembly held March 23. At the onset of the assembly the Lettermen each signed their name to the Lettermen's book for their respective sport. This year the Lettermen's Club honored Mr. Charles Lynch by presenting him with an Enid High letter jacket because of his outstanding support of Enid High athletics. This was followed by a program in which all members of the club took part.

Dick Allen, comedian master of ceremonies, headed up the "New Dick Allen Show." Some of the highlights of the assembly were Dick Lundy and his "Granny" outfit, Marvin Loudermilk and his ballet number, along with humor, satire and talent. The show ended with a bang as the master of ceremonies was shot and carried off the stage.

Diamond Crew Rallies Over Weather

Twenty-three boys under the guidance of Floyd Winfield, baseball coach, overcame the factors of weather to further their 1962 season. Led by Pete Seidl, top hitter for the team, Enid knocked off their first opponents before dropping three straight games to Mid-State foes.

Working toward the final goal of the regional and state tourneys May 4, 5, 11, and 12, the boys played extra hard coming down the stretch to finish out a good year. Returning lettermen from last year were: Don Frakes, Doug Frantz, Pete Seidl, Ken Buchanan, Wynn Mabry, Tommy Plummer, Mike Releford, Butch Beaty, Marty Bunnell, and Terry Diener.

Enid closed out its regular season on April 24 when they met the Midwest City Bombers whom they had previously defeated.

MARTY BUNNELL, Butch Beaty, Bill Parriott and Leon Lewis warm up before the big game. Representing the Plainsmen mound staff all four boys will be pitching the diamond crew on to success.

Plainsmen Race To Regain Lost Championship of '60

Boasting a tremendous power in sprints and relays, the Enid High track team had a banner season for the 1962 team. The squad, coached by Harvey Griffin, worked many hours in building a championship contender. Enid was third in the Mid-State last year, and this year they regained the title won in 1960.

Enid lost its power in the distance runs with the graduation of Gary Janzen, but there were many promising milers from the sophomore and junior classes. Enid's greatest strength was in the 880-yard relay composed of Stanley Crowder, Larry Melott, Jerry Koop, and Bill Munn.

Enid competed with Ponca City, Lawton, Duncan, Shawnee, Alva, and all the Mid-State conference teams.

Swimmers Capture Mid-State Trophy

The Enid High Swimming team coached by Mr. Frank Shive came through this year for the second consecutive time with the title of "Mid-State Champions." At the state meet they placed tenth in a field of some fourteen schools. Besides traveling to Oklahoma City and Norman during the season, the team entered an invitational meet in Wichita at which Enid High was the only Oklahoma school attending.

The Mid-State Champs worked hard throughout the season and because of their efforts finished with a 9-1 record, and a trophy which was a true example of teamwork.

Golfers Drive For Conference Title

Taking to the greens and tee boxes before ole man winter had taken his leave, golfers experienced play in different kinds of weather. Top amateur on the Enid High circuit was Tom Stevens, Senior and three-year letterman, who was expected to lead the Mid-State Conference. Other returning lettermen were Tom Rempel and Jim Owens. Three Sophomores who did a fine job and gained experience for the future were Ricky Bernstein, Dick Kennedy, Rickey Booze. This year the team played under the direction of Coach Harvey Griffin. Besides the Mid-State and State Tournaments, Enid played dual matches with El Reno and Ponca City.

Netsters Serve Aces To Familiar Foes

Enid's net crew consisting of nine boys took to the daringly fast courts during the early spring months in anticipation of a victorious season. Headed by Eugene Hitchcock, Jack Bell, Tom Richards, and Jim Wells, the big blue team matched their skills with Aline, Ponca City, Burlington, Alva, El Reno, and took part in the Mid-State Tournament. The Tennis Team being a new sport in team play at Enid High was happy to be under the fine direction of Coach Tom Niles.

Boys Strive Each Day For Physical Fitness

STRIVING FOR PHYSICAL fitness is an important aspect of education. Boys' physical education classes promote this by various exercises and weight lifting (center).

GYMNASTICS ARE FUN and though at first they cause sore muscles, physical co-ordination and skill are gained. Student teachers demonstrate new ideas in the field of P. E.

As well as enabling the boys to have daily exercise and providing for physical fitness for their bodies, the Boys' Physical Education program gave each boy an idea of the different types of sports and gave each the opportunity to show his different abilities.

Among the activities that the gym classes participated in were basketball, volleyball, softball, dodgeball, swimming, touch football, and track.

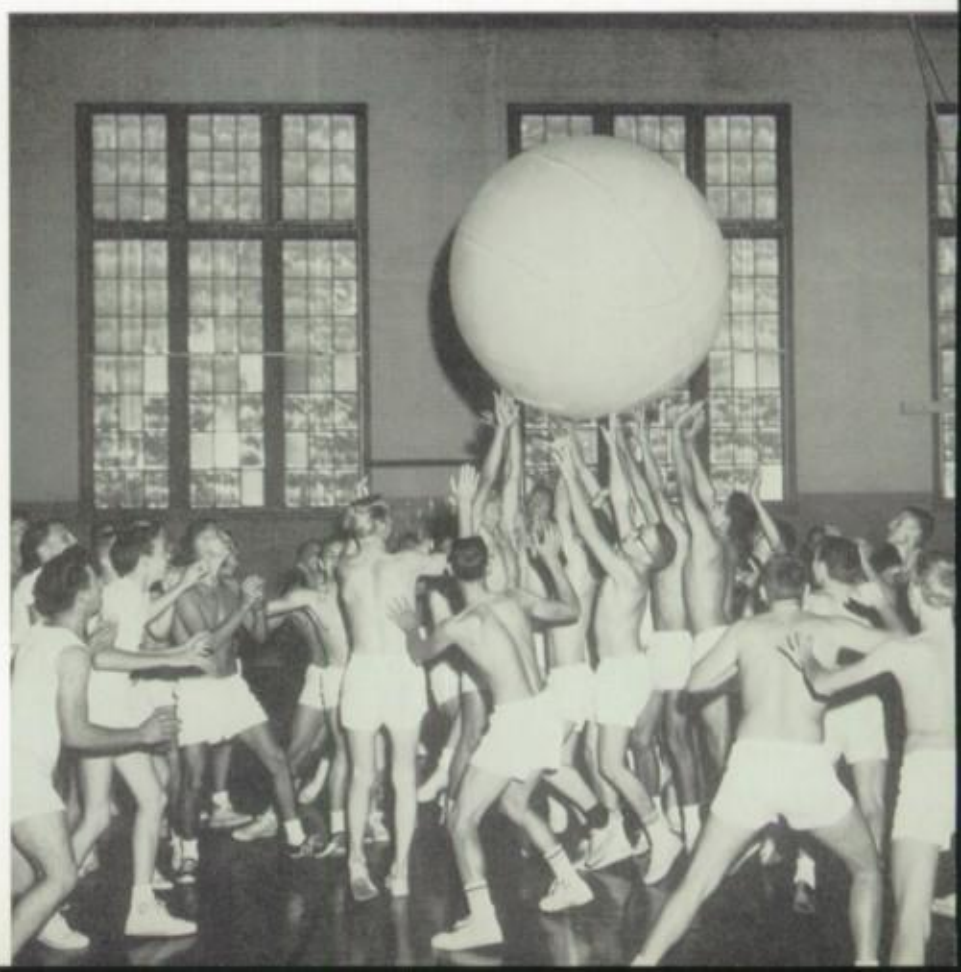
Class teams in volleyball and basketball were formed with the winning teams playing for school championships in the afternoon. The art of tumbling was an additional skill taught to each class. This enabled each boy to sharpen up on his co-ordination.

The swimming classes were taught the four basic strokes, freestyle, breaststroke, backstroke, and sidestroke. When the group was not learning strokes, they participated in games of water polo. During the second semester the boys in the advanced swimming classes took a course in life saving. They were given tests in the pool, and the boys qualified were given life saving badges and certificates as well as the title of Senior Lifesaver.

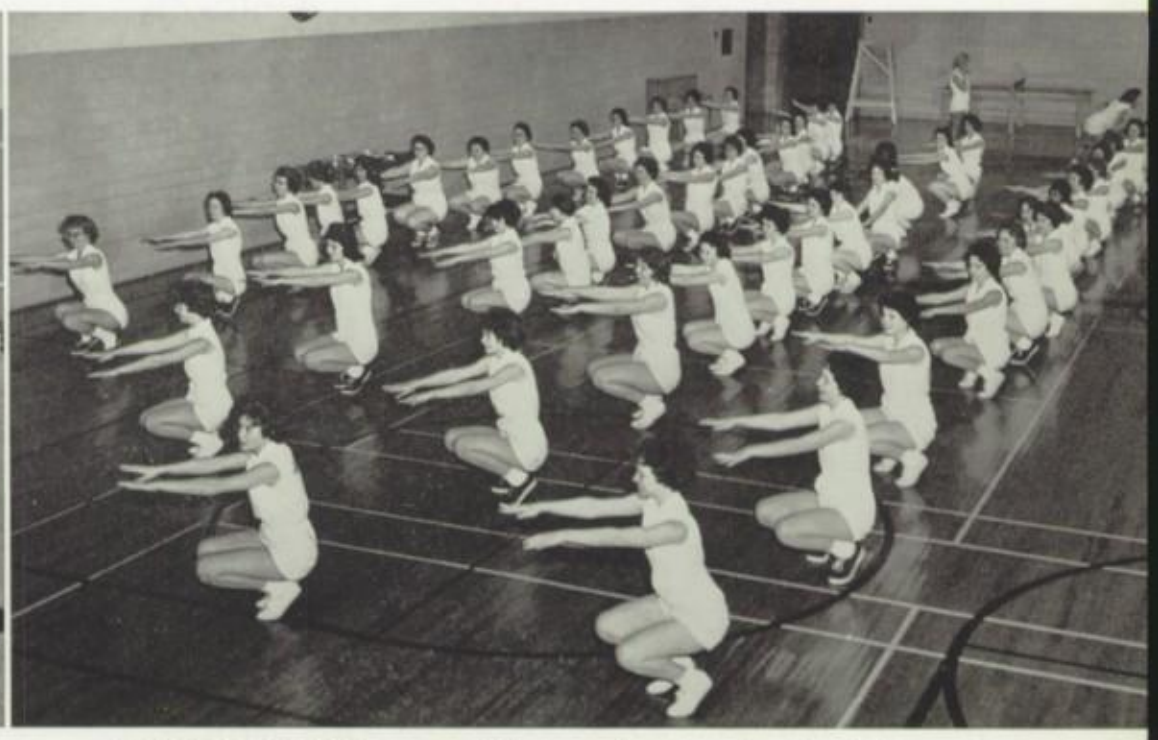
The group of boys not swimming was participating in a new weight-lifting program designed to keep them physically fit and help them to develop their muscles. This program was used by football, basketball, and swimming teams, as well as in many colleges across the state.

The boys who were further interested in physical education and sports could try out for teams in seven different sports offered in the Enid High School Boys' Physical Education and Athletic program. Not only did this program give each boy the opportunity to sharpen his skills and build up his body, but it also taught each boy the vital lesson of good sportsmanship in competitive sports areas.

PUSH BALL GIVES boys' physical education classes a chance to learn team spirit while building endurance and strength.



SUNSHINE BRINGS GIRLS scoop ballers out in force to use up excess energy building better bodies.



ONE-TWO-THREE count girls' gym classes as they do daily exercises to loosen muscles and release tension.

Girls Enjoy Variety Of Indoor, Outdoor Games

Under the direction of Mrs. Curt Hickle, the girls' physical education course helped to develop each high school girl physically, mentally, and morally, to her highest abilities.

Students learned skills in scoopball, volleyball, basketball, badminton, tennis, and softball. Also included in the physical fitness program were tumbling, dancing, bowling, and fencing. Along with participating in sports, the girls took the Standard Red Cross first aid course.

Advanced swimming classes were given the stroker's test and the Red Cross life saving tests. Swimmers also participated in archery games.

Girls who are interested in further recreational activities can earn points in gym classes toward membership in the Girls' Recreation Association. At the close of the year these girls are entitled to enter contests in tennis, badminton, table tennis, and golf at the Individual Sports Tournament in Norman.

FOUR PADDLES, ONE ball, and four girls equal a doubles match of ping pong. Quick motions and fast reactions are present in this game between Letsy Muir, Shirley Williamson, and Sharon Rose. Waiting for their turn are Wanda Lauver and Sally Stewart.

Bravettes

Cheerleaders, backed by the student body and Bravette Pep Club during the 1961-1962 season, are left to right: Cherie Goeringer, Judy Orbison, Sharon Jones, Darla Freidline, Katy Holden, Marva Waring and Connie Graves. To promote pep and enthusiasm throughout the school is the goal of the cheerleaders and Bravettes. This aim was accomplished by the many activities in which the girls participated. Bravettes, largest club in Enid High School, with over three hundred active members, was responsible for field activities during homecoming and helped with the basketball queen coronation. Two out-of-town bus trips were taken for the support of the football and basketball teams.

BACKING THE BIG BLUE two hundred and fifty cheering Bravettes leave for Putnam City to back the team for their first Mid-State victory. Songs and yells release tension and build spirit for the upcoming clash.

Corps Places Tenth American Legion National

A COMBINATION OF precision marching and outstanding playing was the only way to describe the Enid Legionettes all-girl drum corps, sponsored by the American Legion Argonne Post No. 4.

The corps, consisting of 65 members, competed in the Great Plains Association contest held at Hutchinson and Wichita, Kansas, and the National American Legion Contest held at Denver, Colorado. During the year, the group marched at the 89'ers parade in Guthrie, the State Legion Convention and the annual Tri-State Music Festival.

The corps managers were Mr. Jerry Huffer, director; Mr. Walt Barnes, assistant director; Mrs. Faye Beckham, corps mother; Mr. Bob Anderson, equipment manager, and Mr. Jack Swank, business manager. During the summer the Legionettes hosted the first Great Plains Association contest held in Oklahoma. Plans were made for the contest scheduled for the first week in July.

DISCUSSING PLANS FOR the coming season are the Legionette officers for '62. Left to right: Newingham, M. Simpson, L. Grammont, J. Carroll, M. Giles, P. Benson, Jane Thorp, Oberlender, G. Jenkins, Cuthbertson, Netherton, G. Carroll.

D. E. Students Receive Thrill Of Effective Salesmanship

1962 Distributive Education members learned the art of selling and working with the public both at school and on their jobs. Mr. Jewel Ridge, sponsor of the group, spent afternoons grading the students who actually were learning as they earned. During the morning Mr. Ridge then instructed them in better ways to do their jobs. Members elected Judy Johnson queen and Bryan Padgett president.

D.E. STUDENTS' exhibits attract many Open House guests interested in various fields. Seniors eagerly await cap and gown measurements that bring them one step closer to graduation.

Accepts Responsibility For Many Projects

Meeting once a month, Student Council members worked between the pupils and faculty to help improve the school year. Big project of the year was the student directory which gave the names, addresses and phone numbers of all E.H.S. students and faculty members. The organization closed out their year with their annual picnic at Meadowlake Park.

D. O. Students Become Craftsmen In Numerous Trades

D.O. members were busy students, who studied at school during the morning hours and then took on the job training for added knowledge in their chosen field during the afternoon. Members worked for various employers throughout the Enid area and produced good relationships between older citizens and students.

Under the direction of Mr. Tom Kennedy, the club co-sponsored the annual D.E.-D.O. banquet.

FRIENDLY FELLOWSHIP IS enjoyed by all during the twenty-first annual Vocational Education Employer-Employee Banquet sponsored by the Diversified Occupations and Distributive Education Clubs. This banquet enables business firms co-operating in the vocational education program to further their opportunity to serve the student and the community by establishing friendly as well as business relationships in a more informal social atmosphere.

GRANVILLE PRINCE, Jean Frazier, Vera Porter, Eugene Martin, Jurlean Hill, and Faith Miller are enjoying refreshments at the Future Teachers Meeting.

FACULTY MEMBERS HAVE many after school meetings discussing the new trends in education at informal library meetings.

CAROLYN HAWKINS, Janice Newkirk, Linda Hamilton, Mary Rauch, Kathy Munger, Mrs. Lois Clinesmith, Miss Sanders and Judy Johnson enjoy a coke during F. T. A. party.

Future Teachers Accent Education With Know How

"Within our hands will soon be placed the destiny of our race. It will be our task to see that the youth learn the need of feeling their place. We are the Future Teachers, Teachers in a band; and we see our duty as a great one in our land."

"We'll do our level best to guide the children's lives and lead them to a future that will make our country thrive" was the theme used by F.T.A.

Mary Rauch defeated her three opponents at the State Oklahoma FTA Convention in Midwest City, March 30-31, and became the news OFTA Editor. She would edit a page in the OEA magazine each month.

Also Lois Smith was elected State Northern District FTA Representative. Miss Evelyn Sanders and Mrs. Lois Clinesmith were sponsors of the group.

PARENTS, YOUNGER BROTHERS, and sisters are fascinated with objects and modern equipment in the math room. Delta Theta members quickly learn how to use the devices during school hours.

MIKE THOMPSON, SENIOR enrolled in physics, and Rodney Schultz, Sophomore taking biology, proudly display their science projects. Mathematics is a necessity for science students.

DELTA THETA STUDENTS study from books and first hand knowledge they gain while experimenting in formulas and equations.

Math "Quiz Kids" Rate Highly In Scholastic Achievements

Advanced mathematics students enrolled in Trigonometry, Solid Geometry, Probability and Statistics composed Delta Theta this year. The club sponsored by Miss Florel Helema met during regularly scheduled class periods third and fifth hour once a month.

Subjects discussed pertained to interesting areas of math and science.

The purpose of Delta Theta was to further the students' knowledge and appreciation of math and science.

Palette Molds Artistic Minds From Creative Ideas

Palette Club, sponsored by Miss Katherine Bales, art instructor, is an organization which further develops one's interest in art. The club held meetings once a month to which special speakers were invited.

Carl Singer, Ruth Ann Sailors, and Justin Brady were speaking guests this year. The American Association of University Women invited the club to a puppet show performed by Lt. Gamble.

Highlighting the year was the annual club trip taken to Wichita, Kansas. The trip was paid for by members selling at a football game.

N. F. L. Shows Path To "Freedom Of Speech"

With a total of 39 members, National Forensic League of Enid High School won high honors for the school in various speech contests throughout the year. The chapter was presented with a special award by Dr. Bruno Jacobs for being the outstanding chapter in Oklahoma. Only Enid and one other school in the nation had won this honor four times.

Winning more points for this plaque again, speakers qualified for the state contest at the University of Oklahoma. Purpose of the club was to promote good speaking and essential communication to successful living. Mrs. Una Lee Voigt sponsored this group.

ART AND JOURNALISM students observe with interest Justin Brady's demonstration of the potter's wheel which was part of his two-day workshop for the Palette Club. Mr. Brady, sponsored by the American Clay Company, teaches winter workshops all over the central and eastern part of America. He spends his summers teaching ceramics at the Herron Art Institute.

Y-Teens Schedule Activities

Teenagers gave service to their community, and this was the main project of the Y-Teens during the school year. Affiliated with the Y.W.C.A. the group met monthly to hear speakers talk of the spiritual, mental and physical power available in the threefold goal of the organization. Members of the group took part in the community heart fund drive and donated their time in a worthy effort.

G. R. A. Contributes Further Physical And Mental Fitness

The purpose of the Girls' Recreation Association in Enid High School is to provide further recreation for the girls who are interested. This year the club sponsored a volleyball and a basketball team, which played in tournaments with the girls' physical education classes at Phillips University. The club also held its annual Christmas gift exchange in the school gymnasium. Mrs. Curt Hickle sponsored the club this year.

PRESIDENT OF MEDICAL Arts Club, Julia Ross, chats with medical representative during Altrusa Career Day about careers in nursing.

TAKING TIME OUT from a busy schedule of assisting the office Darla Freidline, George Wilson, Katy Holden, and Frances Avery keep the school going as they run errands and carry out necessary duties.

Assistants Administer Help To Faculty And Students

Much shoe leather was worn as the office assistants went about their daily jobs. Included among their many duties were picking up attendance slips, delivering bulletins, handing out S.T.O.'s D.C.A.'s or D.C.T.'s.

At the end of the year they were given a picnic by the Enid High School office personnel.

Students Achieve Victories In Area Contests

This year's debate class was composed of 28 members, with 19 attaining a letter. The national topic was on federal aid to education, and the teams won 60 per cent of their debates. Contests attended this year were Phillips University, Edmond, Bethany, Alva, Putnam City, with one Legislative contest with Edmond. County wins were won by Diane Goodman and Carolyn Medlock in the American Legion Oratorical contest.

Debate aims were to gain knowledge in argumentation, logic, research, and the art of persuasion while arguing was emphasized.

Club Studies "Behind The Scenes" Labors Of Radio

Radio & TV, headed by President Dick Allen, explored the fields of radio and television. The class took part in the annual radio day on KGWA, writing their own script and newscasts. Each day members broadcast messages on Americanism over the school public address system.

Other activities included contests and making 51 speeches during American Education Week. Bill Oden and Linda Nichols won district with superiors at Alva, and Linda placed third in the state in the finals at Oklahoma University out of twenty-four district winners.

Nine Give Assistance To Counselor

Scholarship opportunities, aptitude tests, and advice to all were offered by the guidance office assistants under the direction of Mrs. Nellie McCreary, Mr. Homa Storm, and Mrs. Dorothy Hess. This office which was open at all times played an important part in the lives of E.H.S. students.

Students Help Balance Budget

Football, play, and activity tickets, annuals and friendliness were all handled by the assistants in the activity office. Sponsored by Mr. Charles Lynch, aided by Sharon Arnold, secretary, students working in this office supervised the financial affairs of all organizations.

Thespians Present Shows To Delight All Audiences

There were thirty-eight students who earned their required ten points to be initiated this year. They earned their points by being in plays, working on committees, and selling tickets.

The Thespian convention was held at Central High School in Oklahoma City on March 10. The program was based on improvement of dramatic art.

Highlighting the year was the annual Thespian Play, Molly Morgan, a very inspiring drama. Thespians concluded this year with the Annual Senior Banquet held on April 24 honoring graduating Thespians.

Annual Staff Builds Memory Book To Relive Past

Trying to recapture events of the year in permanent form was the chief duty of the QUILL ANNUAL staff.

The group met sixth hour for the purpose of assignment, but in a truer sense met whenever a group picture needed to be identified or whenever or wherever an event needed to be reported for the yearbook.

Taking pictures in September, editing layouts in snowy December, writing copy, working on panels, and later writing last minute copy, retaking pictures, trying to cover spring sports, staff members were never finished until the book was out.

Librarians Help Others Discover New And Varied Adventures

How to classify books, properly shelve books, and find all reference material are only a few of the many problems faced by the assistant librarians every day. These student librarians are the members of the Library Club—a service club with mostly work and little fun for the members. Their purpose is to learn all they can about daily situations in the library.

Accompanied by Miss Hazel Fleming and Mrs. Iris Bucher, the twenty-six assistants represented Enid High School at the Oklahoma Student Library Assistants' Annual Convention at Oklahoma University on March 10.

Hi-Y Stresses Statewide Leadership

The purpose of the Hi-Y club, the high school branch of the Y.M.C.A., is to give the boys a better understanding of their community. April 6, 7, 8, the club attended the state convention held in Oklahoma City, where they learned how the legislative branch of the state government operates. During these three days they took an active part in the work that is done at the state capitol.

Machinists Tool New Careers

The students in Mr. Robert Pyle's machine shop spent three periods a day, five days a week for a period of three years learning skills on industrial machines.

Students graduating from machine shop earned 25¢ to 40¢ better wages and the employment record was one of the best. Of the graduates of the preceding five years, 60% were in industry and 22% were attending college. Machine shop was truly an asset to Enid High prestige.

French Club Studies Foreign Nation—Home Of Romantic Languages

"Bonjour, mademoiselle," greeted members of Les Copians, second year French club. Sponsored by Addie Fromholz, French instructor, the club met bimonthly during the year to learn more about the people and customs of France.

The club sponsored a Christmas party and puppet show which featured students speaking French during the program.

Graves. Bottom Row: Williamson, Welch, Wyatt, C. Griffin, Hill, Jurlean, J. Henry, Eckford.

Latin Club Examines Basic Languages

Life in the Vergilian Club, started in 1923, was not altogether a sober atmosphere of a classical language. The members were those students taking third and fourth year Latin which is Cicero and Vergil.

Highlighting the year was the club's annual banquet in which the younger Latin students served as slaves to the other members who represented gods and goddesses.

Aquaettes Inhabit E.H.S. Pool Like Mermaids

"Ink in the Sink or Print on Parade" was the title of the Aquaettes' annual water show presented March 14 and 15. Twenty-four members also gave an assembly, "Fairytales," and held an Aquaette clinic earlier in the year. Katy Holden was elected queen and Mary Kathryn Merritt as president.

Scientists Search For Theories And Fact With Various Projects

The Science Club sponsored by Mr. Gene Mauk achieved several superior ratings for outstanding work on their projects this year.

In the Regional fair at Alva, four superior ratings were given and one project was judged best Biological Exhibit.

At the state fair, four students were excellent medalists and one exhibit was judged by the Air Force to be the outstanding project in electronics.

The purpose of the Science Club is to combine efforts and ideas of members so that each can develop a project.

DURING OPEN HOUSE parents look with interest at the bug collections the students gathered. Each student was required to mount thirty bugs.

WORKING OUT THE schedule for 1961-62 year are Denny Brackeen, Melodee Thomas, Dick Allen, Claudia Bushner, and Bill Buchanan. Seated are Jane Sturdivant and LaDonna Hueppelsheuser.

Young Reporters Aid City's Daily Newspaper

The responsibility of gathering, preparing, and editing school news of the grade schools, junior highs, and high school was faithfully performed by the first and second year newswriting students. Despite rain storms of fall, snow blasts of winter and spring fever, they managed to gather a report on every school's activities each week which was printed in the Enid Daily Eagle. The publication of these activities informed the parents as to what their children and others were doing at school, let the students have the enjoyment of seeing their names in the paper, and most of all gave the reporters the experience and proudness that came from having their articles printed.

Top Row: Peak, T. Hoisington, Arrington, R. Hodges. Third Row: Luckinbill, Rauch, Semrad, B. Lang. Second Row: Goins, Blackwood, G. Hawkins, T. Lindsay. Bottom Row: C. Goeringer, J. Crawford, Taylor, Wyatt.

BILL EDSON, photographer, and Milton Garber, editor, Enid Daily Eagle, meet D. Bruce Selby in the hall to discuss the news angle of Career Day.

STUDENTS NEW TO the Enid School System are honored with an after school "Get Acquainted Party" in the cafeteria. Here new students are introduced to their future classmates and their future instructors.

Today's Journalists Employ "Freedom Of Press"

Journalism Club members met once a month to hear interesting speakers from various phases of the communications media, speak.

Among those whom they had the opportunity to hear were Emile Sergio, former interpreter to Mussolini, Herbert Philbrick, counter-spy for the F.B.I., and local newspaper personnel.

Whenever an interesting personality visited Enid, every attempt was made to give J-students the opportunity for a mass interview.

Enid Daily Eagle staff, traditionally helpful to this group, provided opportunities for them to hear speakers, participate in news reporting, and actually spend a day working on the newspaper.

Students adjusted schedules to permit taking advantage of such interviews, one of the most interesting being an interview at the Youngblood Hotel with "What's My Line" panelist, and Random House publisher, Bennett Cerf.

Top Row: Way, R. Hodges, Shook, Walborn, D. Davis, Blackwood, Goins. Third Row: Miss Ruth Scott (sponsor), K. Summey, L. Nichols, Blanton, Tydings, C. Bible Reveals Life's Truths Majestically

Members of four Bible classes formed clubs, in order to devote more time, as a group, to the intellectual study of their own religion, as well as millions of different religions of people, in different countries, of the world.

The classes, under the direction of Mr. Stanley Jenkins, first of all, studied background and authorship; then interpretations, to better understand the Bible.

First semester dealt with the Old Testament of the Bible, second semester went on into the New Testament.

System rules the business world; but system can become "Red Tape." In our Studio we use system; we have a certain method of handling business that has appealed to us as the best. Our System is, simply, the system of "SQUARE DEAL." We want our customers to feel that they are getting what they pay for; that their pictures are made of the best materials and workmanship.

To Avoid "Red Tape"—We endeavor to handle each customer as a separate and distinct "Study," not simply as a person who wants a picture. That's the reason why "McConkay pictures are different."
